Effort To Head Off Rail Tieup Begins; Market Strike Ends

By The Associated Press.

Federal mediators made a last ditch effort today to head off a nationwide railroad strike set for May 11.

Elsewhere on the labor front there were these major developments:

A month-long strike against the New York Stock Exchange ended. The AFL United Financial Employes Union accepted a wage offer of the Exchange, pending a city investigation of the wage issue. The 950 workers involved were offered weekly increases of $3 to $5 depending on work categories. A similar strike against the curb exchange was settled earlier. A strike continued against four brokerage houses.

Auto Strike Looms.

Representatives of the CIO United Auto Workers and management resumed wage talks in Detroit in an attempt to avert a threatened strike of 75,000 Chrysler Corp. workers. The union will set a strike date Friday. The UAW seeks a 30-cent hourly wage boost and other benefits. The company has withdrawn its offer for an increase of six cents and hour.

The paper work necessary in getting the coal miners $100 a month pension checks started in Washington. John L. Lewis said it will be "several weeks" before the first checks actually are mailed. Operator Ezra Van Horn of Cleveland objected to the preparations but was vetoed by Lewis and Senator Bridges (R-NH) neutral member of the three-man board of trustees. Van Horn has started court action to block payments.

Railroad Strike Possible Under Own Labor Law

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, April 29—(AP)—Two big railroad unions—the Switchmen, and the Firemen and Enginemen—threaten to strike on May 11.

A third big union, the Engineers, may strike then, too. All three have been fighting for a pay raise. Such a strike would tie up the country.

The Taft-Hartley law does not apply to railroad unions. The law itself says so.

Disputes between railroads and railroad unions are covered in a special law, the railway labor act, passed by congress in 1926.

Laws Different

There is a big difference between the Taft-Hartley law and the railway labor act. Here's how:

1. Under the Taft-Hartley law, when there's a big strike, the government can step in and ask a federal judge for an injunction—court order—to stop a strike for 80 days.

When such an order is issued, it's compulsory. The union must not strike for those 80 days.

But after that time it is free to strike.

2. It's differest under the railway labor act. It outlines various steps for delaying a strike.

Steps Not Compulsory

But not one of those steps is compulsory for a railroad or a railroad union. Either side can ignore any, or all, of the steps.

Here's how the railway labor act

Opening Parade Is Being Planned For City Centennial

Committee preparations for the Corsicana Centennial Celebration, to be held July 2-3-4, went into another day Thursday as the opening day parade was discussed

A chairman of the parade committee will be named during the day.

A group consisting of Mayor Hubert T. Braselton, commission chairman; Herman Brown, secretary; L. S. Keen, Fred D. Prince, W. Allyn Lang and Louis Wolens met during the morning to make preliminary plans for the spectacle.

Cash Prizes Studied.

Preliminary discussion centered around awarding substantial cash prizes for the best band and the best float in the line of march. It is hoped that the parade will be one of the outstanding features of the celebration, and that it will step up above the usual run of parades featured by private automobiles and trucks.

Every organization will be ask-

TOM BRENEMAN

Tom Breneman Is Memoralized By Radio Broadcasts

HOLLYWOOD, April 29—(AP)—Memorials to Tom Breneman, who died yesterday, replaced the joviality of his "Breakfast In Hollywood" radio show today.

A spokesman for the American Broadcasting Company said there would be tributes today, tomorrow and Saturday while the Network decides whether the Breneman show will be continued.

It is possible that Jack McElroy, who often substituted for Breneman, may carry on the program which had an estimated 10,000,000 daily listeners to its gags, interviews, fun with ladies' zany hats and orchids to the oldest woman present each day.

Breneman, 47, fell dead of heart disease at his Encino home early yesterday morning as he was preparing to leave for his Vine street restaurant in Hollywood where the show was transcribed a day in advance.

TRUMAN TRIP ACROSS NATION JUST BEFORE CONVENTION PLANNED

TOUR NOT LABELED AS POLITICAL; REPUBLICAN TUG-OF-WAR CONTINUES

By The Associated Press.

Plans were shaping up today for a cross country speaking tour by President Truman only a month ahead of the Democratic National Convention.

Unless developments in Washington or abroad intervene, Mr. Truman is scheduled to open his personal appearance campaign June 2 in Chicago. There he is to address a Swedish immigration celebration.

Two days later he may visit Omaha where his World War I buddies of the 35th division will hold their annual reunion. From there he is expected to go to the Pacific Northwest before making the commencement address at the University of California on June 12.

Not Openly Political.

Although not openly ticketed as a political junket, the tour's details are being worked out by Democratic National Chairman J. Howard McGrath.

Mr. Truman's search for a running mate could be tied into the transcontinental travels. Gov. Wallgren of Washington has been mentioned as a likely vice presidential choice.

Meanwhile, the President's Republican opponents were off on speaking tours of their own.

Harold E. Stassen, the former Minnesota governor who holds the GOP popularity title to date, was in New Jersey to bid for the state's 35 convention votes.

The New Jersey convention slate already has been chosen and pledged to the favorite son, Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll. But Stassen had a luncheon date today with the delegates and other leading state Republicans at Trenton.

Two other top contenders, Gov.

Showdown Fight On Civil Rights Being Prepared

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(AP)—Senate Republicans began clearing the way today for a showdown fight over civil rights.

The judiciary committee ordered a closed door session this morning to begin study of anti-lynching legislation. Senator Ferugson (R-Mich) told a reporter he expects the group to approve the bill and send it to the floor.

Ferguson is chairman of a three-man subcommittee which drafted the measure he described as "a real anti-lynching bill." It would make it a felony for anyone to take part in a lynching or for any officer to fail to prosecute a lynching mob.

Priority Given.

The Republican majority has decided to give the measure priority over other civil rights bills. It was President Truman's request for such legislation that stirred up a revolt by Southern Democratic politicians.

Another of the measures already has been cleared for possible action by the senate. The rules committee yesterday voted 7 to 2 in favor of a house-approved bill which would outlaw the poll tax as a requirement for voting in federal elections. Of eight states with poll tax laws, seven are in the South. The eight are Alabama, Arkansas, New Hampshire, Missis-

Republican Tactics On Several Issues Rapped By Truman

WASHINGTON, April 29—(AP)—President Truman today hit at Republicans proposals to give his atomic energy commissioners short new terms in office. He said that would delay atomic energy development.

Present terms of the five commissioners run out next Aug. 1. Some Republicans are talking of giving them one or two years more in office instead of staggered new terms up to five years as provided by present law. They reason that a Republican president may take over next year and want to name his own commissioners.

"Paun of Uncertainty"

Mr. Truman read to a news conference a statement saying that to give the commissioners short terms would "restore the pall of uncertainty that surrounded atomic development for nearly two years after the Japanese surrender."

"Such a proposal," he said, "would have an adverse effect upon the urgent business of pushing ahead in our knowledge and utilization of atomic energy both for use in our economy and for our defense."

He said the commissioners were appointed "without any reference to their political affiliations."

GOP Proposal "Terrible"

Asked about other Republican proposals to extend the reciprocal trade program for one year, instead of for three as asked by the administration, the president said that is terrible.

He said the nation's foreign pol-

New Name Taken By Youth Council; Officers Elected

Mrs. John W. McAdams was nemed president of the Corsicana Community Council at its annnal meeting in the Junior High school auditorium Wednesday night.

The annual election of officers followed the council's unanimous approval of a special committee's recommendation that the group's name be changed from Youth Council to Community Council. A recommendation that a paid, professionally qualified executice director be employed also was formally approved.

Other officers elected were:

The Rev. Jack Goff, first vice president; Don Winslow, second vice president, and Charles Barnaby, secretary and treasurer.

Under the constitution, officers could not succeed themselves. Barnaby had been acting as secretary, however, because of the resignation some time ago of Mrs. W. D. Lamb.

DR. TATE MILLER

Corsicana Native Becomes Medical Association Head

HOUSTON, Tex., April 29—(AP)—Dr. Tate Miller of Dallas today became president of the Texas State Medical Association.

(Dr. Miller is a native of Corsicana.)

Dr. G. V. Brindley, Sr., chief surgeon at the Scott and White Hospital, Temple, was named president-elect, to assume his duites next year.

Miller assumed leadreship of the association at the concluding session of the organization's 81st annual convestion. He succeeds Dr. B. E. Pickett, Sr., Carrizo Springs.

New Officers Named

San Antonio was named the 1949 convention city.

The new officers were named by the house of delegates, which last night decided to move the association's headquarters from Fort Worth to Austin.

Other officers elected today include Dr. R. E. Windham, San Asgelo, vice president, and Dr. Robert B. Homan, Jr., El Paso, speaker of the house.

Dr. Harold M. Williams, Fort Worth, was reelected secretary.

The position of speaker was created this year as a means of aiding the president on conduct-

Two Million Seen Limit On Forces Without War Cry

By ELTON C. FAY
(AP Military Affairs Reporter)

WASHINGTON, April 29—(AP)—The high command, working with foreign policy framers, thinks two million men are enough for defense—that more might be viewed abroad as a move toward aggressive war.

The joint chiefs of staff, it was learned today, used such a diplomatic yardstick to help it measure the size of the recommended peacetime military establishment.

The joint chiefs' organization is composed of the military heads of the Army, Navy and Air Force, plus Adm. William D. Lehay, the chief of staff to the president. They constitute an advisory group to Secretary of Defense Forrestal.

Council Sets Policy

The overall military-diplomatic policy is shaped by the National Security Council which includes President Truman, Secretary of State Marshall, Forrestal and the civilian secretaries of the armed forces. The military planning thus is designed to be geared to the diplomatic thinking by the council.

Forrestal himself disclosed cryptically that factors other than cost and manpower availability were involved in the military's recommendations. In a New York City address last week he said that an armed force larger than the one recommended "might justifiably be viewed as preparation for war."

The joint chiefs, accordingly, made their recommendations for the fighting services within the framework of political as well as military objectives.

Recommendations

Here is what they want for a peacetime defensive force (present manpower figures in parenthesis):

An Army of 837,000 men (540,000) in the regular establishment, 650,000 (260,000) in the National Guard. The regular Army would be organized into 12 divisions, plus 50 battalions of anti-aircraft defense.

A Navy of 556,000 (350,000), 220-

British Artillery Shells Jaffa Area Taken By Jews From Arabs In Battle; Arabs Report More Troop Movements

JERUSALEM, April 29.—(AP)—British artillery for several hours today shelled the Manshieh quarter of Jaffa, captured yesterday by Irgun Zvai Leumi after four days of fighting with the Arabs.

Tonight a cease-fire was ordered until 9 a. m. tomorrow. It was proposed by W. Fuller, British district commissioner, so he would arrange a meeting with the Jews. The British seek to prevent the Jews from occupying the predominantly Arab port.

Five British planes made reconnaissance flights over the Tel Aviv-Jaffa area. The British attack came as officals of Egypt and Iraq said large parts of their armies were moving on Palestine.

Sharp skirmishing occurred in the Jordan River Valley opposite Trans-Jordan.

Jews Claim Win.

The Jews claimed capture of Beisan, 15 miles south of the Sea of Galilee. Beisan is a way station for Arabs filtering in from the East for the battle of partition.

The Arab Legion informed King Abdullah in Amman it had occupied Gesher, a Jewish collective settlement in the Jordan Valley, and killed hundreds of Jews. The Legion said the fight started Tuesday night when Jews killed Legion

European Moderate Leftists Snubbing Communist Plans For May Day Events

LONDON, April 29.—(AP)—The Communists will have to celebrate May Day on their own this year in most of Western Europe's Democratic capitals.

Socialists and moderate labor groups are giving the Communists the cold shoulder as never before in planning for the traditional labor celebration Saturday.

May Day was established as an international labor holiday in 1890 at a Socialist congress in Paris. In most countries it has become Labor Day. The Russians have made it a national holiday, and this year they plan one of their biggest celebrations in Moscow.

Huge pictures of Lenin, Stalin and other Bolshevik leaders have been placed on buildings, and the city is going all-out in decorations. The Russians are combining celebrations, since May 1 is the third anniversary of the entrance of Russian troops into Berlin.

In Western Europe, however, the Communists generally find themselves snubbed.

Dual celebrations, in some cases for the first time, were called by Communists and non-Communists in London, Oslo, Paris, Berlin, Amsterdam, Brussels and Copenhagen.

Even in Finland, which recently concluded a mutual assistance pact

PROPOSAL OF WORLD POLICE FORCE FOR JERUSALEM REJECTED

U.S. APPEALS AGAIN FOR APPROVAL OF TRUSTEESHIP SETUP

LAKE SUCCESS, April 29.—(AP)—United Nations efforts to set up an international Valunteer Police Force for Jerusalem were apparently doomed today by refusal of the Arabs to cooperate.

This new complication in the U. N. trusteeship council came as the United States appealed again for quick approval of its plan for a temporary trusteeship in the war-ridden Holy Land.

The U. S. plea was made in the 58-nation political committee of the emergency Palestine assembly of the U. N.

Other Developments.

Other major developments in the two-front Palestine debate:

1. A U. S. delegation spokesman denied published reports that the United States was planning a new shift in Palestine policy.

2. Iraq proposed that any Palestine trusteeship be limited to one or two years and that the vital question of Jewish immigration be held in abeyance until trusteeship ends.

3. Arab and Jewish representatives told the trusteeship council they would ask their people in Palestine whether they would undertake jointly to guarantee protection to the Holy Places of Jerusalem.

4. A Jewish Agency representative told the trusteeship council if the Arabs oppose a truce for all Jerusalem "I must envisage a state of war."

Both the trusteeship council and the political committee adjourned until tomorrow morning.

Palestine Advisor To Aid Marshall In Policy Study

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(AP)—Maj. Gen. John H. Hilldring, a trusted associate of Secretary of State Marshall and an expert on military occupation, is taking over direction of American policy on Palestine.

A state department announcement that Marshall had appointed Hilldring as his special assistant, was regarded by authorities today as signifying possible developments along one or more of these lines:

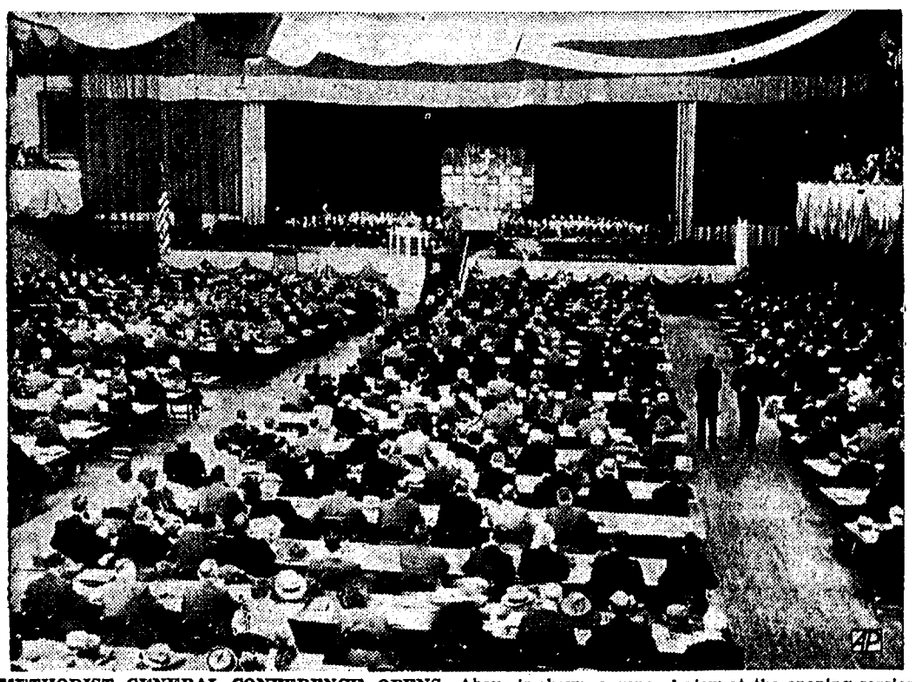

1. Intensified efforts to win both Jewish and Arab support for the American-sponsored truce plan.

2. Preparations for the possible dispatch of United States troops to Palestine.

May Join Force.

The United States is already on record with an offer to share in a Palestine police force along with other countries, provided a truce is arranged. If troops are sent, many of the problems involved wold be those of a military government nature, with which Hilldring is familiar.

3. A restudy of the whole American position on Palestine in an effort to discover whether there is any untried approach which might produce greater hope of a settlement.

Kentucky Police Chief Is Killed By Negro In Street

ADAIRVILLE, Ky., April 29.—(AP)—An insane negro shot to death Chief of Police Rufus Barrow, 60, with the officer's own pistol today, then for more than an hour stood off officers before he finally was overpowered.

The negro, listed as Ed Burkes, 20, had been adjudged insane and was in custody of the officer, awaiting a bus to take him to an institution. The prisoner seized the officer's gun, felled him and fired shot after shot into his body.

Other Officers Defied.

Then the man, waving the gun menancingly, took up a position over the officers' body and defied police and sheriff's deputies to approach him.

The officers refrained immediately from attempting to seize him lest he start shooting into the crowd of several hundred which quickly gathered.

After nearly an hour and a half, the officers kept the man's attention while another negro, Capers Crumbaugh, 45, slipped up behind Burkes, flattened him and disarmed him.

Adairville is in Logan county, just above the Tennessee line, between Russellville, Ky., and Springfield, Tenn.

The shooting occurred at 7:30 a. m. Central Standard Time, near the negro's home.

Sheriff Reuben Kemp of Logan county and Deputy Tom Shea led officers to the spot.

Barrow had been police chief here about ten years. Before that he was night police chief at Franklin, Ky.

WOMEN LET DOWN HAIR, AND LET DOWN BUDDHIST—When Venerable Lokanatha, Buddhist Missionary Priest from Burma, arrived at a lecture club in Los Angeles, he was supposed to walk across a carpet of human hair provided by a dozen women because "Venerable is not permitted to walk on ordinary pavement," according to his spokesman. But, permitted to or not, Venerable clearly is walking on ordinary pavement because only one of the women had hair long enough to spread before him. (AP Wrephoto.)

PTA CITY COUNCIL'S ANNUAL BANQUET HEARS 2 SPEAKERS, HONORS MRS. H. R. STROUBE

BY BONNIE WRIGHT BINFORD
Daily Sun Staff.

The annual banquet of the City Council of Parent-Teacher Associations, held Tuesday evening in the Senior High School cafeteria, honored incoming council and local unit officers; gave audience to two distinguished visitors who discussed the Gilmer-Aiken committee for Texas legislation on education; and presented Mrs. H. R. Stroube, president of the board of education, a life membership.

Mrs. W. P. Brown, retiring council president, served as chairman for the program which had as its principal speaker Dr. L. D. Haskew, dean of the College of Education, University of Texas, who was introduced by his co-worker on the Gilmer-Aiken committee, Senator James E. Taylor. Dr. Haskew's topic was "Steps Toward Better Education for Texas," dealing particularly with the prospects for an improved foundation program for Texas public schools which Governor Beauford Jester called the committee to consider.

Life Membership.

The presentation of a life membership to Mrs. Stroube by Mrs. Brown in the name of the council represented an annual award made to some outstanding citizen. Mrs. Stroube's name was submitted by every local unit in its separate recommendation to the life membership committee which Mrs. Roy Bristow served as chairman said Mrs. Brown.

The award, with its token gifts of a framed membership certificate and pin, came as a complete surprise to Mrs. Stroube and to the majority of the guests. A brief and gracious acknowledgement of the honor was made by Mrs. Stroube.

Preceding the presentation of the principal speaker were the invocation by H. C. Allen, principal Corsicana Junior High School; group singing led by Miss Lena Mae McClure and accompanied by Miss Erma Weidmann at the piano; the life membership presentation and the introduction of guests and officers.

For the occasion the cafeteria was decorated with a profusion of spring flowers and filled to its capacity.

In introducing Dr. Haskew, Senator Taylor stated that Navarro county's Gilmer-Aiken committee is one of 230 such state groups, set up to work with the state committee which in composed of legislators, educators and laymen.

Schools Discussed.

The formation of this group, said Taylor, came about as a result of Governor Jester's conviction that public education concerned all citizens and as a result of the fact that more than $251,000,000 has been earmarked for education from state funds in the biennial period. As chairman of the senate finance committee, Taylor was closely associated with the work of the committee, of which he is chairman, from its inception.

The Kerens legislator claimed that the public school system was reaching only two out of three children. "Our democracy," he said, "cannot function or carry out its international responsibilities unless it can obtain for its people a basic education so that they can participate."

Public education is a major industry in the opinion of Taylor, who stated that as such it should by run by the most efficient methods possible.

Sought As Officer.

Dr. Haskew, who has been active in the field of state educational survey for a number of years and who has served seven other legislative committees as a technical consultant, was introduced by Taylor as the man whom the committee unsuccessfully sought to employ as its full-time executive officer.

"Most of the problems that confront education in Texas," stated Dr. Haskew, "can be solved locally without the necessity for any far-reaching state program of activity." The primary purpose of the 230 Gilmer-Aiken advisory committees, he said, is to study the problems of education as they appear in their own localities.

The importance of such an arrangement, he said, lies in the fact that "When the people say what they want, there are never any difficulties. They get it." Moreover, the speaker claimed, the state Gilmer-Aiken group has no preconceived program.

"They are leaning over backward," said Dr. Haskew, "to find out what people want and to work out the technical details to get wha people want."

Proposals Offered.

As salesmen for education, teachers and educators have not been effective, said Dr. Haskew, adding, "You don't remember how much we have asked you for. You only remember how many times we've asked."

In studying the problem he proposed that the public arrive at a better conception of the state's obligation to the individual child; think in terms of the state's function in education; realize the wide variety of needs to satisfy its obligation to every child, and determine a unit basis for distribution of state monies set aside for the purpose.

"In the long run," Dr. Haskew summed up, "the question is what kind of education do people in Texas want? You are going to get the kind of education you want in your county."

White roses, golden iris and mock orange blossoms were massed in three striking arrangements for the speakers' table. To the back of the hall and facing this table was an elevated basket arrangement of red roses, purple iris and mock orange blossoms which trailed greenery to the floor. Between them, the dinner tables were ablaze with bowl arrangements of roses in shades of pink and red accented with other spring blossoms and with festoons of rambler roses.

Colorful Programs.

Places for the guests were marked by colorful programs whose flower motif covers were prepared by public school pupils.

At the speakers' table were program participants, members of the board of education, their wives and husbands: Supt. W. H. Norwood; Senator and Mrs. Taylor; Dr. Haskew, and Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Brown. Special sections in the general seating arrangements were set aside for the Gilmer-Aiken committee of Navarro county: the county board of education; city commission; Corsicana Council of PTA, and the Navarro Junior College regents.

The menu for the occasion included creamed chicken in shells; fresh green beans and buttered beets; a congealed lime salad; hot rolls and iced tea, and an ice course.

General arrangements for the annual dinner meeting were directed by Mrs. C. C. McQuiston, Mr. Norwood and Miss Alleen Carraway.

Committeese Listed.

The program committee included Miss Sarah Holman, H. C. Allen, Mrs. J. C. Dempsey, Mrs. J. Etheridge King, Mrs. Maurice Young, Miss Ell Louise Mathis, Mrs. Alton Truitt and Mrs. Joe Wier.

The menu was planned by Mrs. B. W. Woolley, Mrs. Beula Huff, Mrs. R. R. Brown and Mrs. R. C. Marshall. Decorations were planned and executed by Mmes. L. B. Dawson, W. B. McAlester, Dan Miller, J. I. Cartlidge, H. R. Stroube, W. L. Kirk, Lee Gressett, J. E. Simington and Miss Irene Prine.

The ticket distribution was handled by a committee composed of R. A. Armistead and Mmes. Roy Bristow, Woolley, R. R. Brown, Lowry, Dempsey, Simington and Gressett.

Many Introduced.

The number of introductions of individuals and groups was so great that the principal speaker with characteristic humor perfaced his discussion with a request that, "Those three people who were not introduced will please pass their names to the speakers' table so that they may be recognized."

Members of official groups present for the occasion were asked to stand with their wives and husbands for introduction to the general body. These groups were headed by the board of education which includes besides Mrs. Stroube, president, R. L. Wheelock, vice president; B. W. Woolley, secretary; Mrs. F. A. Pierce, Dr. W. K. Logsdon, Doyle L. West and Ralph R. Brown. The presentation of guests and officers was the joint responsibility of Supt. Norwood and Mrs. Brown.

Mayor Hubert Braselton with members of the city commission, the county Gilmer-Aiken group, officers of all local PTA units and of the city council, Junior College regents, school officials, the Corsicana Teachers' Association, and other guests were recognized.

Special recognition was given to Mrs. A. Scott Lowry, newly elected president of Navarro County Council, PTA; Mrs J. C. Dempsey, who will succeed Mrs. Brown as president of the City Council, and Mrs. Frank Ware, recently named Twelfth District vice president of Navarro, Freestone and Leon counties for the Texas Congress of PTA.

Not present for the occasion, for which more than 200 tickets were sold, according to school officials, but recognized for their contributing efforts were sixth and seventh grade pupils at Robert E. Lee school, who were responsible for the colorful program covers.

Better Public Health Service Sought By PTA

The National Congress of Parents and Teachers is seeking federal, state and local action, backed where necessary with federal and state legislation, to extend the services of full time public health departments uniformly in all localities of the country.

The program to provide suitable health departments in local areas where they are now lacking or are inadequate was launched at the recent health conference of national and state oficers and committee chairmen of the congress in Chicago.

The bill to be sponsored by the national congress, will offer no provisions for socialized or curative medicine and is entirely to perfect and extend preventive public health services under state and local governments.

As outlined by Mrs. L. W. Hughes, Arlington, Tenn., national pfesident, a nonpartisan bill will be introduced shortly in Congress. It would appropriate $78,000,000 to set up and operate the federal aid program the first year and provide for appropriations by Congress thereafter.

Concerning the bill, Mrs. Hughes said: "The bill will follow the PTA's long adopted program and effort to bring better public health services to the country and especially to the 40,000,000 people having none, thus giving every child in the country an equal opportunity for good health."

Other Details of Program

Other aims of the national program are as follows:

Stimulate every member of the community to participate fully in civic affairs and to assume responsibility for community betterment; sponsor community projects and activities that will give different nationality groups a better understanding of one another; and provide opportunities for them to analyze the causes of senseless fear, prejudice, and hate, and then devise ways of ovecoming them

Expand present parent education programs to include the organization of preschool sections: the sponsorship of nursery schools, day-care centers, preschools and adult counseling agencies; and the active support of adequate housing and other improvements that raise the standards of family life.

Organize lively forums, institutes and conferences that will bring specific action to bear on juvenile delinquency, divorce, and other disintegrating forces in modern family life; and promote better and wider use of "National Parent-Teacher, The P.T.A. Magazine," which gives parents the knowledge and skill needed in the practice of the profession of parenthood.

Uphold the enduring power of the United Nations, particularly UNESCO, to lay the foundation of world-wide unity and peace; and organize study groups to discuss the structure and functions of the United Nations and its international agencies.

Plan Campaign To Battle Threat Of Grasshoppers

"We are worried about grasshopper infestation in Navarro county," W. H. Walker, Navarro county agent, stated Thursday morning while discussing the fine looking crop prospects in this area.

The county agent then added that supplying of poison bait against the hoppers would begin next week with a central mixing plant in Corsicana.

More Plants Possible

He estimated that the hatch was about 25 percent completed at the present time, and should be completed in about 10 days. There is a poss bility that additional mixing plants may be established in the event the one central one is unable to provide the necessary supply.

"The hoppers are already in some pastures," Walker said, "particularly along creeks, levees and some fence rows."

It has been reported the insects already have invaded some of the pastures in the Barry vicinity, and the agent stressed the desirability of poisoning the hoppers while they are still small and before extensive damage has been done to pastures and crops.

Cotton Crop Late

In discussing cotton, Walker said that the crop was late, but is looking fine following the welcomed rain of last week. There is a considerable amount of the cotton acreage still unplanted, but some is up enough to be plowed and is growing well.

Corn is late, but is looking good, particularly in the heavy bottom fields along the creeks. Rowstuffs has not come up in sufficient quantities to form an estimate of its prospects, the agent added.

The warm weather of this week has been a boon to all growing crops, pastures and gardens. The pastures are growing fast.

Gardens are later than last year, but are expected to prove ample for the home needs during the spring and early summer.

Canal Repairs Start.

SAN BENITO, April 29.—(AP)—Repairs were being made today on a canal which carries water from Marte Gomez reservoir in Mexico into the Rio Grande to augment the rapidly dwindling irrigation supply.

Both Dallas, Fort Worth To Welcome Vernon Caravan

DALLAS, April 29.—(AP)—This city was ready with a "big, hearty welcome" today for boosters of the Vernon Santa Rosa Roundup caravan.

The Vernon civic group which accepted an invitation to come here after deploring a "snubbing" by Dallas' rival—Fort Worth—are due to arrive at the northern city limits at 2 p. m.

But they'll also go to Fort Worth. The caravan changed its mind about cancelling its trip through Fort Worth after officials of that city sent a "cordial invitation" to the group. They'll go to Fort Worth on the return trip.

The Vernon caravan is to be met here by Dallas Mayor Jimmie Temple, City Manager Rod Thomas, Asst. Police Chief W. S. Brogdon and J. Ben Critz, general manager of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce.

John Biggs, president of the Vernon chamber, said Fort Worth at first was "cool" toward plans for the boosters to stage a show and parade through the downtown section of the city.

Both cities have since agreed to provide facilities in their respective business districts for the visitors. The Santa Rosa roundup will be held at Vernon May 4-9.

Corporation Court

Three persons were arrested by the police department on drunkenness charges Wednesday night, with one facing the additional complaint of using bad language at a local cafe.

The department investigated two minor traffic crashes. In the 200 block of North Commerce, Mrs. Cleo Bingham of Winkler was backing her 1939 Ford away from the curb when it collided with a 1940 Mercury driven by Cleveland Howard of route 1.

In the 400 block of North Main, Dr. O. C. Bowmer, driving a 1939 Chevrolet, going south on Main St., collided with a 1934 Ford driven by Lewis Calling of Kere . Calling was backing from the curb.

Mormon Chapel To Be Dedicated Here On Sunday

Mission and distrct officers along with visitors from several Texas cities will be in Corsicana Sunday to attend the opening and dedicatory services for the new chapel of the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints, popularly known as the Mormon church. The public has been urged to attend these services.

The chapel, located at 402 South Twentieth street, will be formally dedicated at afternoon services at 2 o'clock, although an earlier service at 10 o'clock a. m. will present an explanation of the tenets of the Mormon church. Mission president Glenn G. Smith of Salt Lake City, Utah, and Houston, will be in charge of the service of dedication.

Other dignitaries expected to be present include District President Henry Knight of Dallas and the Supervising Elder, Stanley E. Barker, of Big Fork, Montana.

The Corsicana elders who have been serving in this area as missionaries are James S. Hurst of Salt Lake and Richard G. Jewkes of Midvale, Utah.

National Guard Needs Place To Store Equipment

All types of U. S. Army equipment, ranging from telephone wire to big 2 1-2-ton trucks, are now in the hands of local National Guardsmen.

But there is no place to put it.

Captain J. C. Gaston, who acts as public relations officer for the 133rd Field Artillery's headquarters battery here, announced that his unit had received ten Jeeps, three 2 1-2-ton trucks, two motor driven wire reels, radio and telephone equipment. More is expected to arrive in the near future, he said.

"We now have 13 vehicles, and no place to park them," Gaston said. "We are searching for a building suitable for an armory and for space to store the vehicles."

The officer said the two big wire reels were too large to get into the present armory on Beaton Street.

The vehicles and equipment will be used during the summer training camps slated for August and during regular drill periods each Thursday night, it was announced.

Clubs Plan Camp At Lake Trinidad

Plans for the annual District 9 Home Demonstration Encampment at Lake Trinidad, Henderson county, May 24-26, will be perfected at a meeting at Trinidad Friday of committees from Navarro, Henderson, Rusk and Anderson counties. Seventeen East Texas counties are members of District 9.

The Navarro county contingent to attend the planning conference Friday are Mrs. Percy Varnell, Barry; Mrs. C. M. Stover, Oak Valley; Mrs. Elzie Armstrong, Emhcuse, and Miss Eva Sue Merritt, Navarro county home demonstration agent.

Bromfield's New Book Published

Louis Bromfield, who visited Corsicana last Nov. 10 in the interest of soil conservation, has put his ideas in a new book.

It is Malabar Farm, a story about Pleasant Valley, Bromfield's rehabilitated acres.

The book is published by Harper and Bros., and went on sale Wednesday.

Task Force At Norway.

BERGEN, Norway, April 29.—(AP) A U. S. Navy task force headed by the carrier Valley Forge reached Bergen today on a goodwill visit to Norway. Norwegian military and civilian officials met the ships' officers. The American sailors and marines started a snowball fight on the piers.

GRADES AND GOALS

Parents who are preparing their children for life, and pesumably for a successful life, will be interested in the results of an investigation carried out by Dr. Frank S. Endicott, placement director and professor of education at Northwestern University.

Speaking before a convention of the Illinois Vocational Association, he outlined conclusions reached by a study of the answers to questionnaires. These had been sent to 70 companies, among which were some of the largest corporations in the country. He admitted that in some fields, top grades were important, but the majority of employers place them low on the list of qualifications for good jobs. Personality traits, such as dependability, accuracy, cooperativeness, courtesy, and cheerfulness are listed as essential. A college student with a B average and a record of successful participation in campus activities stands a better chance of employment than does a recluse with exceptionally high grades.

In many elementary schools, the tendency is away from a rigid marking system, and toward a report card which embodies aptitudes and pesonality traits. The parent is informed of his child's attitude toward his fellow students and of his degree of co-operation with the teacher and with the class. This moves toward achievement of the qualifications listed by the placement director. Good grades have value as evidence of work well done. But they are not enough. Learning to get along with other people is also important.

HOPE FOR OLDER MEN

Since the war's ending, with the consequent reconversion in many lines of work and the complete stoppage in others, many men 40 years of age and older have found themselves out in the cold.

An organization in Chicago is finding places for many of these older men formerly of executive or administrative rank. The Men Over Forty Club has placed 700 members in executive positions, and its president, T. Harvey Gilmour, told an interviewer that industrial leaders are finding a need for many persons of mature judgment and experience. There is always a market for proven ability, performance, and accomplishment, according to Gilmour.

This is true not only of men of the calibre needed for executive posts. An organization performing the same service for the rank and file of workers would undoubtedly find that many supervisory jobs and others requiring not speed and precision so much as painstaking effort and a background of experience could be filled by men 40 years old even up into the seventies.

LEWIS AND THE LAW

The belligerent leader of the coal miners, John L. Lewis, more than once has flouted the authority of the government, and has attempted to ignore laws and courts with which he does not agree. This far, however, in the end he always has acknowledged the authority of the courts, advancing to the bar of justice to stand there, like any other citizen, when ordered to do so.

But his attitude toward the law has become a seed sprouting among some of the members of his union. Sixteen months ago, when he had a brush with the law, there were murmurings that if Lewis were harshly treated by the courts the miners might strike to force an easement of his lot. Now the same murmurings are heard again, but stronger. About a third of the miners temporarily declined to return to work pending settlement of the second set of contempt chages against Lewis.

There is something profoundly disturbing in this suggestion of a strike against the law of the land as represented by the federal courts.

CZECH ELECTIONS

Czechoslovakia will hold elections May 23. There will be one ballot, a single list of candidates, all approved by the Communist party. Even former non-Communist groups, such as the Socialist Democrats, have given "enthusiastic approval" of the slate. Their leader, deposed by the Communists a few weeks ago, has returned to his post, "recognizing his former mistakes" in opposing Communism.

If any American citizen needs convincing proof that the communist ideology was a dictatorial one, let him consider these plans for Czechoslovakia's voting day. Why do party leaders bother to go through the form of balloting? Probably the answer is that when the votes are counted, they can proclaim to the world the overwhelming support given by the people to their regime. Such reports would be complete truth, as far as figures go. The "yes" men will win, for the "no's" would be liquidated. It is one way to assure election victory. We like the American way better.

OPINIONS OF SANTAYANA

A dispatch from Rome tells of an interview with the famous philisopher, George Santayana, in his quiet retreat near Rome.

The great man is not afraid to change his mind, even at his advanced age. Not very long ago, he predicted that Communism was about to take over Europe. Observation and consideration have, however, brought about a change in his attitude. He affirmed that the world needs a new religion, and Communists believe they have it to offer. "But," he went on, "it does not have the depths nor the soul-strength to become one."

Santayana believes that Communsm owes it success in Russia to the temperament of the people there, and that when it comes up against those of different temperaments, it will fail to make headway. His final word was: "If the Western powers leave Communism alone, it will crumble from within."

Great weight may be attached to these words from the former Harvard professor of philosophy. His complete detachment from the world since his retirement may well have given him the necessary perspective for seeing the truth of the present situation.

It is recorded of an educator who has just passed away, "He remodeled high schools." Where they were good, he made them better. And that, perhaps, is honor enough for one man.

THE FIRST LETTER.

When I was but a little lad I'd see the postman call
And watch my mother take the mail, with none for children small.
I wondered as she read them through how old I'd have to be Before among the letters she'd discover one for me.
And then one day the first one
came—a letter all my own—
Though much has happened down
the years, no sweeter thrill
I've known.

Importance rides with little things,
especially with a boy.
The first of almost everything is tinged with pride and joy.
The first watch is a brighter one than all he later buys.
The first red sled and bicycle he'll view with glistening eyes;
But on his face I'm sure will be the widest, proudest grin,
When that first letter with his name the postman passes in.

The years have swiftly come and gone since I was wondering when
A letter meant for me alone someone would think to pen.
Today the mail keeps piling up
from friends afar and near,
And some I read with eyes aglow
and some with sigh and tear.
But now, whatever word may come, the thrill is not the same
As that I knew when I was young and that first letter came.

JOHN H. WINTERS SPEAKER AT PUBLIC AFFAIRS DINNER OF B&PW CLUB ON TUESDAY

John H. Winters, Executive Director of the State Department of Public Welfare, was guest speaker at the annual Public Affairs Dinner of the Business and Professional Women's Club at Kinsloe House Tuesday evening. Miss Mary Walker, past president offered an appropriate invocation and Miss Adlyn Hayes, chairman of the board of directors and past president, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. L. S. Cooper. Miss Hays welcomed the members of Kinsloe House and out-of-town guests, and called attentition to the many facilities provided by the clubhouse.

In the soft glow of myriad pink tapers, gemmed at intervals with pink delphinium, the more than one hundred members and guests assembled for the event, general arrangements for which were made by Mrs. R. N. Elliott, chairman, and Inez Blackwell, Hallie Childress, Lucille Denbow, Ruth Tucker, Mrs. I. J. Bigony, Cora Roberts and Neneri Holloway of the Public Affairs Committee.

Adornment for the speaker's table featured pink-tinted Easter lilies, painted daisies and pink gypsophila in a blue crystal epergne, flanked pink tapers in crystal holders. The table decor was arranged by Bee Cason, chairman, Marie Walker, Edith Stewart, Calesta Pearson, Faye Quinley, Lei Holsey and Anna Daniel of the decorations committee.

Discussion of Evening

After a complimentary introduction by Fred W. McClung, local field worker for the State Welfare Department, the speaker of the evening launched into a discussion of the services now being made available to Texans through the Department. The Department, which was characterized as the largest money-spending agency of the state, provides assistance for more than 250,000 citizens of the state each year, the total expenditure being approximately eighty-seven million dollars.

Phases of state welfare work discussed by the speaker included Aid to Needy Blind, Old Age Assistance, Aid to Dependent Children in Texas and Child Welfare Services. During the past month, 2290 aged persons in Navarro County received checks to the amount of $72,000, or an average of $31.78 each, Mr. Winters revealed. The 77 blind people of the County received checks in the amount of $2700, and the 185 mothers of 442 dependent children received $6,316-00, making a total of $81,000.00 spent by the State Welfare Department in Navarro County during the month of April, the speaker pointed out. In other words, almost a million dollars are received from the various welfare services by Navarro Countians each year, it was brought out.

Aids Business

Continuing his discussion, Mr. Winters stated that the money goes directly into the channels of trade in this community, since the amounts are so small and the needs of the beneficiaries are so urgent. Not one cent of the money can be saved as the necessities of life must be provided by each small check, he stated.

Mr. Winters paid particular tribute to the field workers who accept, investigate and make recommendations on all applications for the various benefits. The workers must be persons of character and integrity since their decisions concern the very life and future of applicants for assistance, he said. He emphasized that the purpose of the various programs of the Walfare Department is to provide needy persons who meet eligibility requirements with money for basic necessities while they live at home among family and friends.

The speaker referred to the Federal Social Security program, which affects only 40 percent of the citizenship, since the self-employed, the agricultural worker, and domestic help are not included. He expressed a desire that universal coverage will finally be adopted.

Information on Other Services

Mr. Winters pointed out that Aid to Dependent Children gives cash assistance to destitute children under 14 years of age who have been deprived of parental support or care in order that they may continue to live in their own homes. The Child Welfare program, he said, gives no cash assistance but provides services for the protection and care of homeless, dependent or neglected children and children in danger of becoming delinquent. He emphasized the importance of assisting children before they become delinquent, and stated that parents sometimes neglect their children and they are taken away from them and placed in better environment. A happy home is the only proper place for a child, the speaker declared, a home where the parents love each other and love the child being the most desirable under all circumstances.

The many services of the State Welfare Department available to children will assist in producing the worthwhile citizen of tomorrow, the speaker pointed out, as he made a plea for more character-building activities and more leadership in the interest of youth. "Do more and talk less" was his final admonition to parents and workers with youth.

Entertainment Feature

Entertainment features of the program were contributed by Miss Zelma Hanson and Verdie Cook who sang duet arrangements of "Sweethearts" and "Moonbeams", with Miss Ruth Elaine Foster at the piano, and Mesdames W. M. Forester, Lynne A. Wortham, O. W. Holmes and Dan Miller who played a piano quartette arrangement of Ethelbert Nevin's "Country Dance."

Harper-Fulton Nuptial Ceremony Held At Gilmer

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Highnote and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hodge and son, Persons, of Chatfield, have returned from Gilmer where they attended the wedding of Miss Edwina Fulton, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Edwin Fulton of Gilmer, and Joe Harper, Jr., son of my. and Mrs. J. B. Harper of Gilmer, Saturday at 7:30 o'clock p. m., at the First Baptist church, with the Rev. Joseph Kelly Simmons as officiant. The bridegroom a former resident of Corsicana, is a grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hodge and Capt. and Mrs. J. M. Harper of Chatfield.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white slipper satin with a circular train. A round, threaded silk lace yoke fashioned the neckline, which was edged with a lace ruffle that extended into a butterfly sleeve effect. The elongated bodice terminated in a bustle back. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a lace and seed pearl tiara and she wore slipper satin evening gloves. She carried a colonial bouquet of white spring flowers centered with an orchid.

Briday attendants were Mrs. Elton Wilburn of Gilmer, the bride's sister, Miss Lou Ramey of Austin, Mrs. Alton Barrett and Miss Hattie Maude Johns of Gilmer, and Miss Jeannine Wallace, Denton.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was William Earl Gipson of Austin.

The bride is a graduate of Gilmer High school and attended the University of Texas. She is a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority.

The bridegroom is manager of the Gilmer Chamber of Commerce. He is a graduate of Gilmer High school and a veteran of navy service. He attended Kilgore College.

Announce Arrival of Daughter.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion,* thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.

2 Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

U Of T Scientists Studying Cancer Seven, Half Years

BY DR. ALFRED TAYLOR
Research Biologist, Biochemical Institute,
University of Texas.

AUSTIN, April 29—(Spl.)—For the past seven and a half years a group of us at the University Biochemical Institute have made cancer research a full time job.

We have worked on the cancer problem methodically and systematically from morning until night, plus overtime when particular experiments have made this necessary. We use large numbers of mice and rats in our investigations, and incubators filled with hatching eggs are constantly in use. This means that like the farmer we must do some work on Sundays and holidays.

Much Yet To Be Done.

We have found it to be a very demanding type of work. New ideas and new methods of attack are continuously required. Numerous experiments must be done in order to obtain a few positive results. The individual worker learns not to be discourages when some pet scheme turns out to have no value. All these considerations are true of scientific research in general, but the cancer problem contains them to an exaggerated degree. Scientists have been engaged in cancer research for decades and yet the major part of the work is still to be done.

In the years we have worked here at the Biochemical Institute on the disease cancer, a great many types of investigations have been carried out and over 30 articles have been published in special journals. I am not going to attempt to describe or even list these detailed researches, but I would like to mention very briefly a procedure which was developed here and which has proved to be a useful tool in more than one aspect of this research. It will serve as a sample of the sort of thing we are doing with the cancer problem.

Several years ago, we discovered a simple way to grow mouse or rat cancer tissue in hatching eggs. It was found that all we had to do was mince up the mouse or rat cancer very fine and inject it into fertile eggs which had incubated about four days. If these eggs were later opened a few days before hatching time they were found to contain vigorously growing cancers measuring one-half to one inch in diameter. It was quite simple to mince up pieces of these egg-grown cancers and inject them again into other eggs. In this way the cancer could be kept going indefinitely. Of course, bacteria must be excluded from all these experiments. Mouse and rat cancers have thus been cultivated for more than four years continuously in eggs.

Embryo Studied.

The value of this technique lies in the fact that the normal chick embryo and a cancer grow together sharing the same blood supply. Therefore, we can study the effects of certain chemical compounds on both cancer growth and on normal tissue by injecting them into this common blood supply.

Progress in cancer research has been slow, but those of us engaged in this work are confident that the cancer problem will be solved in the research laboratory.

A university study of whether heredity is a factor in human cancer will be explained in the next article.

Airline Official, Former Resident, Is Rotary Speaker

Flying equipment of the DC-6 type are beating the skies across Mexico on a three-per-day schedule to forge a closer link between the United States and her neighbor on the south, Dick A. Fagin, vice president of American Airlines de Mexico said Wednesday at the regular luncheon of the Corsicana Rotary Club.

Fagin, 1925 quarterback on the Corsicana high school football team, went from co-pilot on the western run of American Airlines, to chief pilot, and on to the official post with the U. S.-Mexico link.

"The burro," he told the club, "is still the No. 1 public carrier of Mexico, but we hope to give competition."

Three Mexico Schedules

The company, he said, now runs three crack schedules out of Mexico City. They go to New York, to Chicago and to Los Angeles.

"Five years ago when we opened the line we carried 23,000 passengers and 150,000 pounds of cargo" he said. "Last year we carried one million passengers, five million pounds of cargo."

He said the 5-mile-a-minute DC is now in service on the line after its reinstatement following voluntary withdrawal after what Fagin called "an unfortunate incident" at Gallup, N. M. Referring to the case, he said Douglas Aircraft and American Airlines withdrew the ships for rechecking.

"Today they are flown with the CAA indorsement as the 'finest plane ever built for commercial air travel", he said.

Employ 500 Mexicans

The company went to Mexico with 50 Americans and hired 150 Mexicans. Today there are nine Americans and 500 Mexican nationals in the company.

Fagin, in stressing that "distance has ceased to exist," said Mexico is now within four hours of Corsicana.

The ex-flier was introduced by Halsey Settle. Fagin was accompanied to the luncheon by Milton A. Atkinson, sales representative of the company in Dallas.

Jim Shanks, Boy Scout executive director who is moving to Oklahoma, expressed appreciation to the club, of which he is a member, for efforts in promoting interest in the youth organization.

There was a vacant chair at the birthday table in honor of the memory of C. O. Ferguson, who died some months ago.

Members whose birthdays came in April and who received a slice of cake in recognition of having been born included F. L. Fredericksson, Pat Brown, Bill Cruse, King F. Elliott, Mark Dewitt and Luther A. Johnson Jr.

Bennie Poarch and Wayne Bowers, junior Rotarians, were guests.

Late Rally Short Of Overhauling Indians' Lead

Navarro Junior College's Bulldogs lost a close 11-10 return encounter with the Hillsboro Junior College's baseball team, coming out on the short end of a slugging duel that ran through the ninth inning at Hillsboro Wednesday night.

Navarro collected 12 hits, but could convert only ten of them into runs, while Hillsboro was nicking Lloyd Longino of Navarro for 11 hits and 11 runs.

Bulldogs Rally

Trailing 11-7 at the end of the eighth frame, Navarro broke out in a rash of hits, and put three runs across the plate.

But two Navarro batters flied out and Jim Farquhar of the Indians fanned the final batter to retire the side and give Hillsboro the win.

Both Longino and Farquhar went the route on the mound for both teams.

Navarro's J. H. Justice hung up the best hitting record of the night, getting five for five. He racked up two doubles and three singles.

The game did not count in the conference standings. Navarro plays its next conference game at Territo Park here Friday night at 8 o'clock against Henderson County of Athens.

MISS LOIS JUANITA HAMILTON WEDS A. L. GAINES OF HOUSTON IN EUREKA HOME CEREMONY

In an evening ceremony on April 14th, before an improvised altar of white gladioli, stock, daisies and floor candelabra at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hamilton, Eureka, Miss Lois Juanita Hamilton exchanged vows with Alon Lee Gaines, son of J. O. Gaines of Houston, formerly of Eureka.

Fred W. McClung, minister, performed the ceremony and the wedding music was provided by Miss Eloise Johnston.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a sheer wool suit of navy blue with white accessories. Her bridal corsage was fashioned of white carnations.

Attending the couple were Miss Mary Lou Hamilton, sister of the bride, and Glen Cook. Serving as ushers and also lighting the candles were Billie Gene Hamilton, brother of the bride, and Richard Gaines, nephew of the bridegroom.

A reception followed the ceremony, with Mrs. Marron Curry, sister of the bride, presiding at the tiered wedding cake and Miss Mary Lou Hamilton serving punch.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will make their home in Houston.

The bride is a graduate of Mildred High School and Fuller School of Beauty. Her husband, also a Mildred High graduate, served for three years with the armed forces in Europe.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included: Mrs. J. F. Mayo, Bonham; Mrs. C. O. Curington, Jr., and son, Temple, Mrs. B. W. Williamsos. Texas City; J. O. Gaines and Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Mormon and daughters, Houston; Mr. and Mrs. Verne Gaines and son, New Orleans, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Derwood Gaines, Crane.

Jester Ends Talk He's Considering Vice Presidency

AUSTIN, April 27.—(AP)—Gov. Beauford H. Jester today spiked recent persistent rumors and speculation that he was vice presidential nomination aspirations.

"My only interest is in making a good governor of the greatest state in the Union," he told his press conference.

Circulation of the vice presidential rumor began with the governor's speech in Fort Worth last week in which he said, "The Texas delegation must be left free to work for the nomination of a vice presidential candidate acceptable to the South."

"I'd like to make it very clear I'm not interested in the vice presidential nomination," Jester declared.

"From any party or from the Dixie party?" he was asked..

"From any party," he replied.

Attending Swine And Poultry Show

S. P. Walton, negro county agent, and Mrs. John L. Barkley, negro home demonstration agent, accompanied by five 4-H club boys and girls with demonstrations, are attending the swine and poultry show at Marshall.

The group is competing with 16 other counties of the Northern district.

Transportation was provided by the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. J. Floyd Smith Reviews "Bishop's Mantle"

Syringa, irises, and red and pink roses provided a colorful setting for the review of "The Bishop's Mantle" (Turnbull) by Mrs. J. Floyd Smith in the Young Adult Assembly room in First Methodist Educational Building Monday afternoon. Mrs. Smith was presented by members of Circle IV, Woman's Society of Christian Service, with Mesdames Festus A. Pierce and C. A. Tatum as co-chairmen of the sponsoring organization.

Greeting guests upon arrival were Mesdames Pierce and Isabelle Melton and serving as ushers were Mesdames R. A. Caldwell, Boyce Martin, E. H. Dockery and Chaillos Cross. Mrs. J. S. Haslam had charge of tickets and Mesdames Pierce, Guy Sitton and Caldwell designed the floral decor.

Mrs. C. A. Tatum presented the reviewer, calling especial attention to her various activities since her arrival in Corsicana several years ago and the place that she now holds in the hearts of her co-workers in church, social and cultural activities of the city.

Mrs. Smith was wearing an ice blue sheer with black picture hat accented beneath the brim with miniature pink roses, and made an attractive picture as she delved into the satisfying study of the modern churchman, now recognized as the outstanding example of contemporary religious fiction. Mrs. Smith brought into focus only the characters that will be remembered by those who read the story of the adventures of Hilary Laurens, grandson of a bishop, who tries to live his faith and retain his enthusiasm for his chosen profession. Humor, drama and pathos highlighted the story which proved worthwhile and inspirational, and is destined to restore one's faith in the power of right and goodness to prevail in all situations of life.

The large and enthusiastic audience was applausively appreciative of Mrs. Smith and her outstanding contribution to local literary activities.

RECEIVES CHECK—Mrs. Clara Blakney, left, Corsicana Cotton Mill employee, receives $1,000 check from W. R. Herrod, vice president of the United Textile Workers of America, AFL. The check is in compliance with an agreement reached here, February 5, this year, in the NLRB hearing involving the local union and mill before Louis Plost, trial examiner, Washington, under charges filed by the union against the mill management. The charges were that the mill had refused to bargain with the union and had discriminated against certain employees for union activities, etc. Mrs. Blakney was the worker re-instated and received the $1,000 for loss of time under the agreement that later was approved by the National Labor Relations Board. RECITAL BY MRS. CLAUDE L. WHITE PRESENTED BY KERENS MUSIC CLUB LAST THURSDAY

Mrs. Clude White spoke on "Our American Music" at an open meeting of the Music Study Club of Kerens igh School and illustrated her presentation with native songs of the America. Miss Margaret Pannill was accompanist for the program.

Mrs. Chas. Reese, program chairman for the year, planned the meeting and Mrs. Brooks Smith, president of the hostess organization, presided and introduced the program participants.

Mrs. White prefaced the musical program with a discussion of "our responsibility in understanding our neighbors," stating that one must know how they live and how they think to really know them, and she characterized music as the easiest and most pleasant route. The folk music of any nation provides an insight into its people, the speaker stated, after which she presented selections illustrative of this statement.

Music of North America

Mrs. White opened her musical program with two North American lullabies—"The Sleep That Flits on Baby's Eyes" by John Alden Carpenter and the mode modern "Summertime" from "Porgy and Bess," in which George Gershwin artfully combined Negro and jazz melodies.

Suggestive of Mexico, Mrs. White chose four folk songs—"El Toro Y El Ranchero," "El Perico," "Jarabe Tapatio" and "Los Peregrinos," all of which were sung in Spanish and enthusiastically received.

Crossing the bridge of Pan-American understanding, Mrs. White continued her musical itinerary into Guatemala, from which country she chose "Sin tu Amor" by Sandoval, a number that revealed the warmth, feeling and sentiment of the Guatemalan people, and struck a responsive chord in the hearts of her listeners.

"The Charmarita" and "The Habanera" (in Portuguese) were chosen as representative folk songs of Brazil, biggest and gayest of South American countries. Expressive of the Indian population of Peru, Mrs. White sang "Why, Creator," a Peruvian folk song as her concluding selection.

In response to applausive commendation, Mrs. White sang two encore numbers, "The Serenade," an original composition, and "La Cucuracha."

Immediately following the program, Mesdames Ama Bain, E. H. McCord, Vernon Bruner and Fay Redford were co-hostesses with Mrs. J. B. Coates for a colorfully appointed tea at the Coates home.

Peonies of varied hues adorned vantage points about the home, and a profusion of white peonies fashioned the center decoration of the tea table.

Corsicanans who accompanied Mrs. White and Miss Pannill to Kerens were Mesdames L. S. Keen, Curtis Keen and M. E. Savage.

ONE MAN'S COURAGE SAVED A NATION'S IMPERILED CAPITAL

Heroic Tales of a Brave Patriot and Leader—Nehemiah a Model For Our Present Time—How People Respond to Really Great Leadership

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS and EARL L. DOUGLASS

Fitting our times as a glove fits a hand is the old story of Nehemiah and the rebuilding of Jerusalem. In a day of discouragement and despair his burning heart led him from his high post in the palace of the king of Persia to the dreary trek across Arabia to the ruined capital of his nation. His optimism and courage transformed a desolate scene. He lifted up the hearts of the people and led them in restoration work.

Nehemiah was a Jew; and he could not forget his own people. When news came to him of the desperate plight of Jerusalem, and of his compatroits who had returned to the land of Promise, his very face showed his grief. He was the sort of really big man who gives earnest thought to the people's welfare. Thank God, there always have been such.

A Man Who Acted

Nehemiah's worrying had not been vague and footless sentimentality; he had carefully thought out a plan for helping. So he boldly asked the king for permission to go to Jerusalem, and for authority to deal with the situation. All honor to the man who, in an emergency, does something about it. He is of the Nehemiah breed.

Even the King of Persia saw the distress on the face of his cupbearer. He was a man as well as a king, and he sought to know the cause of his favorite official's distress. Upon hearing the tale he granted Nehemiah leave of absence and equipped him with permission and forces to return to Jerusalem.

So Nehemiah took the backward trail across the desert from Persia to his nation's capital. Arrived there, he showed the quality of a real leader or a historian in quietly ascertaining for himself the conditions. He made the circuit of the walls of Jerusalem. He saw the distress of the people as well as the plight of the buildings. Without fanfare or public plans he mastered the situation as it actually was. Then as now the finding out of the real facts is the first step of any great reform.

Then Nehemiah made himself known. He fired the hearts of the people with a renewal of their old purpose. Drastically, he abolished their social and economic abuses, ending the usury under which they groaned. High and low were inspired to rebuild Jerusalem's walls. Doubtless this incident was the basis of William Blake's lines, a fitting battle hymn for the better day, which the English love to sing:

"I will not cease from mental fight,
Nor shall my sword asleep in my hand,
Until we have built Jerusalem,
In England's green and pleasant land."

No prosperous person today can afford, even on the lowest plane of thinking, to withold his best powers from the common weal.

Fighting Ahead!

This is no pacifist Lesson. It is full of fighting, in the name of the Lord and of the defense of home. Nehemiah turned every citizen of Jerusalem into a soldier, as well as into a worker. Foes lay in wait on every hand, ruthless in the use of any weapon that would hinder reform and recovery in Jerusalem. It is foolish to assume that everybody favors a good cause because it is good. Sooner or later, every progressive movement runs up against active opposition that calls for fighting.

So Nehemiah's Jews made their prayer and set their watch, in true faith and works—the twin wings by which every life and project rise. With trowel and sword the rebuilding of the walls went forward. Workers were all armed, and behind them were set more fully equipped warriors.

Beware of One!

When Sanballat and Geshem and Tobiah could not match Nehemiah and his army of workmen in open warfare, they tried to get him down on the plains of Ono for a conference, meaning to assassinate him on the way. Some of us remember Moody's great sermon on this passage, as he rang out Nehemiah's reply, "I can't come down! I'm too busy! I can't leave the work to talk!"

Nowadays when the plains of Ono are the favorite resort of Churchmen and statesmen, for interminable conferences, it is well to recall Nehemiah. Not by talk, talk, talk; agreement, arrangement, compromise, is the world's work and the Church's work to be done, but by every man building over against his own house. For so the walls of Jerusalem were rebuilt

We need Nehemiahs; they may be preachers; they may be statesmen; they may be editors; they may be teachers; they may be men of any calling whatsoever. But if they have the power to lift the hearts of people to a common great objective of reconstruction, the work will be done without fail. The Lesson of the Lesson is that each of us should bear his part in restoring a world to peace and common prosperity.

SEVEN SENTENCE SERMONS

He who coincides with God's plans succeeds; he who does not is crushed.

—Schauffler.

Resolve to perform what you ought; perform without fail what you resolve.

—Franklin.

Heartily know,
When half-gods go,
The gods arrive.

—Emerson.

Though the past is irrevocable, it is not irreparable.

—Meyer.

So built we the wall;..for the people had a mind to work.

—Nehemiah 4:6.

Who serve have life;
Already they are dead
Who seek no task
For hand or heart or head,
Who smooth no path
That Following Feet may tread.
And listless, dream
When youthful years have fled.

—MacCauley.

The capacity to pray is not always in our power, but in the eye of God the desire to pray is prayer.

Kilgore College Trims Navarro Golfers 6 To 3

Kilgore Junior College golfers defeated the Navarro Junior College Bulldogs in three matches at the Corsicana Country Club course Wednesday afternoon, six points to 3.

The Bulldogs will compete in the Texas Junior College tournament at Texas A. and M. College Monday and Tuesday, May 3-4.

Albert McMichael of the local college, shot a stroke better medal score than his opponent, Sutton but the visitor gained a two to one decision. McMichael came in with a 40-37—77, while Sutton shot 42-36—78. Match play gave the decision to Sutton.

Bill Bowman, Kilgore, shot 42-38—80 to shade Buddy Goins, Navarro, 41-43—84, 2 points to 1.

John Zoller, Kilgore, with 42-38—80, defeated R. D. Hargett, Navarro, 41-44—85, 2 points to 1.

Pearson, Navarro, shot a 46-43—89, but did not have an opponent from Kilgore, so his scores did not count in the team total and showing.

Ennis District Plans For Roads

ENNIS, April 27.—Petitions for the construction of farm-to-market and other hard-surfaced roads in Road District 16, Ellis county, Ennis area, were presented before the Ellis county commissioners court Monday. The court is to call a hearing on the matter within 10 days and it is expected an election will then be ordered.

Ivan Dycus, secretary-manager of the Ennis Chamber of Commerce, sponsoring agency for the measure, estimates it will be necessary to vote bonds in the sum of $450,000 to assure the 18-foot roadways and 80-foot right-of-ways desired.

"Successful culmination of this project will give Ennis the best network of roads laeding into any city, or any town in the county," Dycus continued.

Mission Clinic Is Held At Kerens Church

KERENS, April 27.—(Spl.)—A representative group of women from the different churches of the Corsicana Association met Monday in the Kerens Baptist church for a mission clinic with Mrs. E. K. Howell as director.

Mrs. Glyn Bolch of Blooming Grove, brought the devotion, using as her theme "A Closer Walk With God," and James 4:8, as the Scriptural background.

The Rev. Dan Sharpley of Emhouse brought a message on "Opportunities and Obligations of Our Youth of Today."

A covereed dish luncheon was served.

Mission books taught during the day were:

I. For Adults—"Helping Others to Become Christians"—(Roland Q. Leavell) by Mrs. E. K. Howell.

II. For Intermediates—"Great Is The Company"—(Violet Wood)—by Mrs. O. L. Watkins of Corsicana.

III. For Juniors—"These Are First"—(Margaret Eubanks and Una R. Lawrence) by Mrs. E. C. Lee of Corsicana.

IV. For Primaries—"A Little Book in a Big World"—(Nan F. Welps) by Mrs. A. B. Hutson, Corsicana.

Congregational songs with Mrs. L. H. Carroll, Jr., at the organ and Mrs. J. B. Ousley of Corsicana at the piano, and a special quartet by Barbara Crofut, Lonez Barnett, Elmin Howell, Jr., and Robert A. Bain were in keeping with the theme of the day.

Kerens High School Band Concert Set

KERENS, April 27.—(Spl.)—The Kerens High School band will be presented in concert Friday evening at the Kerens High School auditorium at 7:30.

A varied program will be given and the public is invited to attend.

L. E. Gray is the director of the band, having served in that capacity since Feb. 2. Gray received his musical training at John Tarleton and at North Texas State College, Denton.

Firmer Hold On Third Place Is Secured By Win

The Corsicana Tigers took a tighter hold on third place in the District 9-AA baseball race Tuesday afternoon lambasting the Temple Wildcats 17-5, on the Cats' home field.

Benny Poarch hurled a five hitter, and the Tigers took advantage of eight Temple errors to down the Felines in ther own backyard.

After the second inning, the Tigers were never behind. Goolsby of Temple hit a two-run homer in the first to put his mates ahead, but from there on it was the Tigers' game.

In an effort to stem the tide, Temple used three different pitchers. Frank Dix was charged with the loss. Donnie Constance relieved him, and gave way to Mark Thomas, who finished.

The win left the Tigers still in third place in the district standings, behind Waco and Waxahachie, who are undefeated, and tied for the district lead. Waco and Waxahachie play tonight, and that tilt will leave the local Tigers in third place, regardless of the outcome.

Boyd Payne's Tigers will go to Cleburne Friday afternoon for a return game with the Jackets, who lost to Corsicana several weeks ago here.

RAPID CITY, S. D.—(AP)—"It is hard work to live like a white man."

An old Sioux Indian said this gravely to a friendly doctor interested in helping his copper-colored people. But more and more Indians are making the effort to live like white men. The system of putting them on reservations doesn't work out for all. Many now want to find a bridge between their old nomadic life and the new stability of a weekly paycheck.

Here the reservation system is in trouble because the land just won't support the growing Sioux population. And the Sioux won't adapt themselves to a farm culture.

Don't Like Static Life.

They don't like the static life of the plow.

What do they do when a female county agent comes by to teach them the principles of poultry raising and leaves them a setting hen and a dozen eggs?

When she returns to admire the results, all she usually finds are chicken bones, feathers and eggshells, and the Indians are still hungry.

More and more the Sioux are becoming bemused by the white man's cities. Rapid City, which claims a population of 26,600 is also one of America's largest Indian urban centers. The number has climbed from 700 to 2,500 or more in a few years.

Strange People.

Torn by old tribal loyalties, belly demands, and the white man's get-ahead-in-the-world philosophy, they are a strange people in transition. They neither are what their grandfathers were nor what their grandchildren will be. They are trying to get into the pattern of a violent, selfseeking race of foreign conquerors whom they were scalping only 72 years ago.

They are still dubious of the whiet man's sporadic interest in their welfare.

"They come and investigate us and go away," laughed one middle-aged squaw. "And nothing happens. Then some more come back and investigate us again."

Not Sorry for Selves.

But they never feel sorry for themselves. To me the Sioux seem a racial cocktail—a people stoical as the Japanese, as independent and happily irresponsible as the Irish, as cynically subtle as the French.

In their climb from semi-savagery to what we label civilization they go three stages—they are known as tent, shack or house Indians.

The tent Indians are a sad caricature of their ancestors. They are sheltered by canvas tents instead of skin teepees. They try to live on the original Army "K" rations—balls of pounded sun-cured meat mixed with dried fruit and tallow and eaten with dried corn. (Note to war veterans: No, the darn stuff doesn't taste any better than "K" rations.)

Migratory Farm Workers To Get Aids From State

AUSTIN, Tex., April 29—(AP)—Health, education and general welfare aids for migratory farm workers are being planned for the year's first mass migrations northward.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester noted yesterday that the migration from South Texas is due to start within the next two weeks.

He outlined these aids for the 160,000 workers, involved:

Medical kits will be furnished by the Red Cross to every truck carrying migratory workers.

A school will be held in 63 communities to train local and state personnel in how to care for the migrants' welfare needs.

A course in sanitary management and hygiene will be made available by the State Health Department, along with a continuous program of sanitation education and inspection at reception centers.

Case workers of the Welfare Department and the Texas Employment Commission will cooperate to see that migrants who need emergency aid will get it when they need it.

When migrants stop in one place as long as a month, school facilities will be furnished their children.

Sam's Hens Wear Spectacles!

Yes, it's a fact! Sam's brood of two dozen hens are wearing spectacles—which he bought from a mail-order house in Capitol City.

Sam says it works (and big poultry raisers say so, too). The hens see each other through soft colored glasses, and instead of fighting and picking at each other, they go around placidly, gain weight, and lay more eggs.

Makes me almost wish we could have rose-colored glasses for human beings, too. So that instead of quarreling and criticizing, like we do so much of the time, we'd live and let live in contentment.

From where I sit, the human race wastes a powerful lot of time in wrangling over minor issues... whether a man should drink beer or cider... whether a woman should wear slacks or skirts... instead of seeing each other through "spectacles" of tolerance that enable us to live-and-let-live like Sam's brood of chickens.

Dewey Group May Bolt Convention Of Texas GOP

DALLAS, Tex., April 29—(AP)—If Dewey forces don't get fair treatment at the Texas Republican convention at Corpus Christi May 25 they may bolt, State GOP Chairman Hopkins of Dallas said here yesterday.

He charged that the Texas Taft faction, led by R. B. Creager of Brownsville, Republican National committeeman and Taft leader is trying to use political pressure to frighten support that would go to Dewey.

Some Lone Star Steel Workers In Favor Of Union

DAINGERFIELD, Tex., April 29—(AP)—Results of a collective bargaining election at the Lone Star Steel Corp., plant show the United Auto Workers (CIO) victor in one unit and loser in another.

A count from the election yesterday showed production and maintenance workers at the plant voted 410 for the UAW, 33 for the International Brotherhood of Boilermakers, Iron Shipbuilders, and Helpers (AFL); 81 for neither union; 18 ballots challenged, and three void.

Engineers, firemen, hostlers, conductors, and brakemen on the plant railroad voted 41 for representation by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engine Men and Firemen; five for the UAW, and two for neither union.

Rep. Rayburn To Seek Re-Election

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(AP)—Rep. Rayburn (D-Tex) is asking for another term in congress.

The house minority leader said yesterday he has mailed formal application to each county in his district asking that his name be put on the ballot as a candidate for re-election this fall.

Political Activity Increases Here As Precinct Convention Date Nears

Considerable political activity is being seen on the eve of the Democratic precinct presidential conventions Saturday when delegates to the county convention, May 4, at 10 a. m., will be selected. Resolutions passed at these precinct convestions will be presented along with the list of delegates to the county convention.

Rex Patterson of Frost, chairman of the Navarro county Democratic executive committee, will open the convention Tuesday morning. A temporary organization will be perfected soon after the convention is opened, and after the credentials committee makes its report and the personnel of the convention is determined, the permanent organization will be made and the convention proper will get under way.

The local delegation may be sent to the State Democratic convention atB rownwood, May 25 uninstructed.

The precinct chairmen in Navarro county have been instructed to preside at the presidential conventions. In the 42 precincts outside of Corsicana, the precinct conventions are to be held at 2 p. m. Saturday while in the four precincts in Corsicana, they are slated at 7 p. m., according to custom.

The precinct conventions should be held at the customary voting site, and in the event the precinct chairman does not attend, those present can elect a chairman and proceed with the business of the convention.

The secretary of each convention shall keep the minutes, and make a report of the delegates and resolutions passed to the county chairman.

Each precinct in the county is entitled to one delegate regardless of whether or not 25 votes were cast in the preceding general election. In precincts with more than 25 votes cast in the 1946 November general election, the precincts are entitled to delegates for each 25 votes or major fraction thereof.

Bogota Parley To End Friday

BOGOTA, Colombia, April 29.—(AP)—The way is clear for winding up the Pan-American conference tomorrow. The last dispute was settled last night with agreement on a plan to pay for foreign property expropriated by American governments, in line with a United States proposal.

Club News

Pickett H. D. Club.

Thirteen members of the Pickett Home Demonstration Club were instructed in the art of salad preparation by Miss Eva Sue Merritt, the agent, at a meeting of the club held at the Community Center April 26. Mrs. C. E. Fortner was the hostess for the occasion.

Two salads were prepared and later served in combination with the refreshment plates.

The Pickett club will be host to the Emhouse club during the month of August, and will be the guest of the Corbet club.

Mrs. Canant and Mrs. Vertie Norwood will attend the pillowcase making school at the YMCA on May 5.

The next meeting of the club is set for the Community Center, with Mrs. Paul Crowe as hostess.

Mildred H. D. Club.

Mrs. Nannie Bryant entertained the Mildred Home Demonstration Club at her home on Monday, April 26. Twelve regular members were present, and two visitors, Mrs. Corley Warren and Mrs. Fendley Benefield, were welcomed.

Mrs. Hubert Elders led the opening exercises. Mrs John Decker, the president, appointed a new expansion chairman, Mrs. Hubert Elders. Mrs. R. V. Gonton was elected as new council delegate, and the club donated $10 to the cancer relief drive now in progress.

Mrs. John Decker and Mrs. Hubert Elders will attend the pillowcase training school at the YMCA May 5, at 2 o'clock. Mrs. W. G. Owens and Mrs. J. N. Thomas gave rug demonstrations.

The next meeting of the club is set for May 12 at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. C. D. Jackson.

Kerens H. D. Club.

The Kerens Home Demonstration Club met on April 23 in the home of Mrs. Willard Mayo, with the president, Mrs. Hardy Mayo, in charge.

After songs and a brief business session, Mrs. Bert Kilcrease gave the council report, and a demonstration was given by Mrs. J. D. Walker on the making of rugs.

The hostess served strawberry ice cream and angel food cake to 12 members.

Roane H. D. Club.

The Roane Home Demonstration Club held its regular meeting on April 23 in the school house, with Mrs. K. C. McCreary, the president, in charge.

A report was made on the district home demonstration meeting at Lufkin. Miss Eva Sue Merrritt, the agent, gave a demonstration on making spinach and green bean salads. The salads were served on a refreshment plate with roast, cookies and tea to 18 members and one visitor, Mrs. Jack Douglas.

Mrs. B. G. Mayo and Mrs. McCreary were given birthday gifts by the other members. The next meeting will be held on May 14.

Purdon H. D. Club.

The Purdon Home Demonstration club met April 19 in the recreation room at the school house with Mrs. Cora Ellis as hostess and Mrs. Winnie Howard as cohostess.

The club was called to order and the songs, "Count Your Blessings" and "My Club" were sung by all. The roll call was answered by naming your hobby.

Mrs. Hobson Williams gave the council report.

Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Autrey French were elected to attend the pillowcase demonstration at the YMCA at 2 p. m. May 5.

Mrs. Gelene Priddy gave a talk on "Bringing Canning Up to Date." Mrs. Hubbard demonstrated rug making and making of serving trays.

Refreshments were served to 16 members and one visitor, Mrs. Franklin Compton.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Elton Skinner on May 3 at 3 p. m. Miss Eva Sue Merritt will demonstrate the making of salads.

Polio Center Sought.

EDINBURG, Tex., April 29.—(AP)—Establishment of a polio treatment and diagnostic center in Hidalgo county is being sought.

Officials of the Hidalgo-Starr counties Medical Society and the Hidalgo County Health Unit made the request last night to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Mrs. George Peddy is actively helping her husband's campaign for the U. S. senate.

While the candidate travels and talks, Mrs. Peddy runs the show from Houston headquarters. She sends out literature, arranges speaking dates and talks with Peddy boosters.

Peddy, a big man (six feet two, 210 pounds) with strong features and blue eyes says:

"My wife is an excellent businesswoman and a wonderful help to me."

Met in 1919.

The two met in August, 1919, at Austin, the day after Peddy, an infantry captain and a former member of the 35th Texas legislature, was discharged from the armed services.

A guest of honor at a reception, young Peddy was hanging around the punch table when he spied Elmer Luter with a couple of girls. Luter, then a University of Texas student and now a Dallas newspaperman, had one girl too many, Peddy figured.

"I walked up and took one of the girls away from Elmer," the candidate remembers. "She was a decided brunette, five feet six inches tall and her name was Gertrude Erwin. She was attending the university. I danced with her all evening. We've been married now 27 years."

Married After War.

After the war, Peddy re-entered the university. He and his wife both earned their degrees. Later, when Peddy practiced law in Houston his wife for 15 years was head of the staff of secretaries of the law firm.

The two have no children of their own, but raised two of Mrs. Peddy's nephews, W. F. Erwin Jr., and Claude Erwin.

Mrs. Peddy sent all of her menfolks to the second World War. For 29 months, her husband was on the military government staff in North Africa, Italy, France and Germany. As military government staff officer of the Fifth Infantry Division, he ran Frankfurt, Germany, after the Allies took over.

Nephews in Army.

W. F. Erwin, Jr., piloted B-26 bombers in the invasion of North Africa, Sicily and Italy—Gen. Jimmy Doolittle pinned the Distinguished Service Cross on him.

Claude Erwin slugged it out as a doughboy in the Pacific. In the attack on Bougainville he was severely wounded, but he was lucky. He was the only one of 25 members of his company who came out alive.

Today, W. F. Erwin is a law student at the University and Claude is ranching at Rock Springs, Texas.

Movie Industry Is Unable To Work Out Offensive

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, April 29—(AP)—The movie industry is able to get together to protect itself against outside attacks such as censorship and anti-film legislation. But when it comes to taking offensive action, that's another matter.

Recently, theatre men became aroused by their poor business and asked for an industry-wide short to tell the public of the wonders of forthcoming pictures. The idea was to put clips of 34 future films in a one-reel subject. Producers thought the idea was fine, then complications arose.

Independent studios want to get their films into the act. Who was going to select the 34 films? How could color and black-and-white be combined in one reel? Who was going to pick up the tab for the reel's cost?

So the idea was dropped. Meanwhile, theatre business gets worse.

Lawrence Tierney, looking nervous but determined, is working in the movies again and the eyes of Hollywood are on him.

The young actor, subject of many a headline because of his sunset strip shenanigans, has been given the lead in RKO's "Bodyguard" and he swears he's on the wagon. He isn't talking much. "Anything I say, somebody twists it so it sounds nasty," says he.

Here's a favorable sign: "I'm playing a nice guy for a change."

Most oldtimers bemoan the loss of the stock company and repertory companies of yore. "Where will the new actors get their training?" They rant. I've got an answer for them—radio.

Stock company to soap opera is the trend for development of new talent. Look around Hollywood and you'll find lots of folks who cut their acting teeth on a microphone (what a metaphor!)

It Happened 25 Years Ago Today

(From the Files of the Corsicana Daily Sun.)

Twenty-two alleged Communists were arrested by federal officers in Pittsburgh, Penn., in the midst of plans for a big May Day celebration.

Extensive IWW strikes on the Pacific West Coast were spreading to the Southern California oil fields, and included marine and forest workers.

Wilbur Wright, chairman of the free tourist camp committee of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce, called a meeting of his committee for the purpose of securing one of the camps for Corsicana.

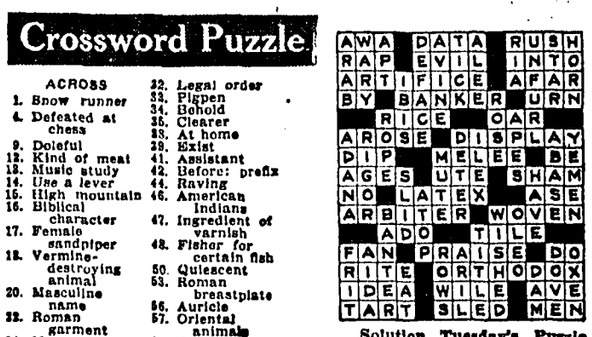

Burglars entered the home of R. M. Riley at Emhouse, stealing three suitcases and 32 pairs of shoes.

The day's requests at the United Charities office here included one for aid in bringing back a truant husband, Miss Augusta Helm reported.

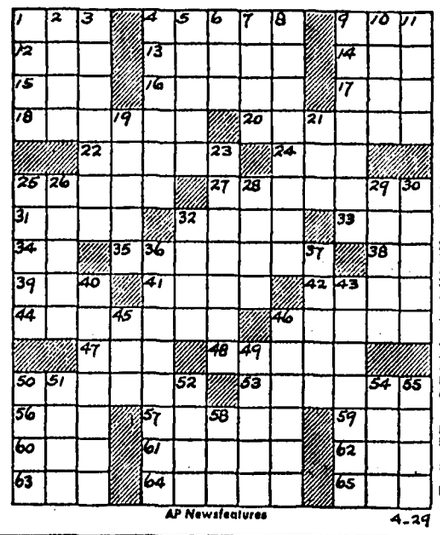

Marion Davies, blond movie actress, was starred in a film showing at the Palace entitled "When Knighthood was in Flower." It was billed as 'the most amazingly beautiful picture ever screened."

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 29—(AP)—Investors and speculators took oil issues for another upward whirl in the stock market today.

Railroad stocks also came in for considerable attention on the buying side but the bulk of trading was in oils.

Gains ranged to more than 2 points while losses—and there were plenty—were mostly smaller. For the market as a whole plus signs balanced closely with minus.

Closing a point or more higher were Mission Corp., Skelly Oil, American Woolen, and U. S. Gypsum. The balance of the market had a little difficulty deciding which way to go.

Steel company issues, for instance, swung this way and that up to the final hour when they suddenly advanced. In the last few minutes they lost part of the gains.

Youngstown Sheet added a major fraction and smaller gains were posted for U. S. Steel and Bethlehem.

Liquor stocks, on the other hand, tended downward most of the day until the decline picked up momentum in late business. National Distillers and Distillers Corp.-Seagram were on the minus column in that group.

New York Cotton Table

NEW YORK, April 29.—(AP)—Cotton futures turned firm today following early easiness supported by new Orleans and local buying which met only limited offerings. Evening-up operations in nearby May and switching into later months were fairly active, following the issuance of 19 additional May transferable notices.

Continued favorable weather in the cotton belt limited gains in the new crop deliveries.

Traders continued to wait new export business under the foreign aid program.

Failure of earlier buying to show any follow-through encouraged increased selling in cotton futures towards the close, with some new crop deliveries declining into new low ground for the day.

Futures closed 75 cents a bale higher to $1.00 a bale lower than the previous close.

CHICAGO, April 29.—(AP)—A railroad strike threat aided in propping grain prices on the Board of Trade today, particularly May contracts. But official expressions of optimism over the prospect of avoiding the strike caused the gains to be reduced or eliminated in late dealings.

Also helping grain prices were a boost in the government buying price for wheat, a pick-up in domestic flour business in the Northwest and increased demand for feed grains from the east. Both of the latter developments were tied in with the railroad strike threat.

Wheat closed unchanged to 2 cents higher, May $2.46 3-4 $2.47, corn was unchanged to a cent lower, May $2.21-$2.21 1-4, oats were 1-8 to 7-8 lower, May $1.10 5-8 3-4, and soybeans were 4 1-4 lower to 2 cents higher, May $4.04.

Acting Majority Leader Wherry of Nebraska said the poll tax action will have no effect on the GOP decision to go ahead first with the anti-lynching bill. Republicans voted it priority on grounds it would be the easiest civil rights measure to pass.

Wherry told newsmen that if the judiciary committee completes that bill, it may be called up next week.

with Russia, Social Democrats and Communists called for separate rallies in Helsinki and some other communities.

Police throughout Europe, with the possible exception of Italy and Trieste, took a calm view of the coming celebrations. In prior years May Day had often lead to sharp disorders.

Italian troops and police were ready for possible trouble, especially in industrial Milan and along the Yugoslav border. There were reports of hidden arms in Milan, and police seized some in a raid on a Milan suburb. Communists and left-wing elements in Rome said only an orderly observance was planned throughout the nation.

Trieste Guard Set.

The allied military government in the Free Territory of Trieste closed ten blockposts and restricted travel in six more, as reports were spread that Communists might try to filter across the border end stage May Day demonstrations.

The British Labor Party arranged to furnish a May Day speaker for every district held by a labor member of parliament. The Labor Party of London called its own demonstration, with Herbert Morrison, leader of the House of Commons, as main speaker. It snubbed the rival parade and meeting of the London Trades Council, whose secretary and featured speaker is Communist Jules Jacobs.

The Jews agreed to the proposal for a 1,000-man elite force to safeguard Jerusalem's Holy places under a proposed truce, but the Arab rejection dashed hopes for its establishment.

Jamal Husseini, vice-chairman of the Arab Higher Committee for Palestine, told the United Nations trusteeship council the Arabs "object to foreign troops being sent to our country." He said the term troops also meant police.

Husseini added that the Arabs would not resist the proposed police force but would never agree to it.

Moshe Shertok, head of the Jewish Agency's political department, said the Jews definitely agree to setting up a U. N. force for Jerusalem.

Senior Class To Present Play At Powell Hi School

The Senior Class of the Powell high school will present a three-act comedy play entitled "Here Comes Charlie" Friday night.

The play, an American favorite, has been presented more than 30,000 times in the United States. It is a touching story that promises to keep the audience in laughter from the rise of the first curtain until the last moment.

The leading roles will be played by Ollie Pearl Simmons and Talmadge Upchurch. Others in the cast include Joan Bray, Lucilla Mae Dial, Mary Rhodes and Margie Derden, and John Allen Holloway, John Henry Dillard, Delma Ware and Boyce Ross. Glenda Faye Ficklin is stage manager.

The curtain will rise at 7:30. The play will be presented in the high school auditorium, and the public in invited to attend. There will be a small admission charged.

Thomas E. Dewey and Senator Robert A. Taft, will make their bids for the New Jersey vote next month.

Taft, meanwhile, continued a speaking tour in his home state of Ohio, where he and Stassen will clash again in the May 4 primary. As yet the senator has had no comment on the Pen. ylvania popularity contest—in which he placed fifth in a field led by Stassen.

Taft Gains Support.

However, Taft gained unofficial support in Delaware. A newspaper poll of the nine unpledged GOP convention delegates chosen yesterday showed four favoring Taft.

Like Taft, Henry Wallace, the Third Party condidate, pressed his campaign on home grounds. He told a Des Moines, Iowa, audience that war threats and the "oil trust" endanger farmers' prosperity.

Wallace described as "nonsense" a charge by CIO President Philip Murray at Atlantic City that the "Communist party" is responsible for formation of the Third party.

Errors Figure In Tallies; Bridges Fans 17 Batters

By TALMADGE CANANT
Sun Sports Staff

Allen Academy pieced together six hits and utilized Navarro Junior College's seven errors Monday night to trim the Bulldogs 7-4 at Bobby Territo Park, and leave the locals with a .500 standing as the TJCAC closed out the first half of its conference schedule.

Bulldog Rally Fails

Lefty Charles Herd tried to stem the tide for seven innings, but the Ramblers grouped 2, 3 and 2 runs in the third, fourth and fifth frames, respectively, and turned back a Navarro rally in the eighth to win. Bridges, Rambler hurler, fanned 17 Navarro batters.

The lanky hurler used a delivery that was sometimes apparently illegal, but it was never questioned, and the Bryan crew got to Herd for a home run, a double and four singles. Lloyd Longino came in in the eighth and held the visitors hitless for the final two frames.

Allen Academy combined a double and a single in the third to score twice. In the fourth, two Navaror errors let two Ramblers on base, and a single and two more errors let them score. Another bobble let the third run in. In the fifth, Esquinel homered over the left field fence with one man on, and the Bryan crew had their seven runs. Navarro scored one run on Herd's double and Bridges' error in the fourth.

Smith Homers

Navarro's eighth-frame rally fell short. Christman walked, and Justice was hit by a pitched ball. Holland fanned, and Charlie Smith homered, bringing in two runs with him. Wilson then struck out, and Herd walked, but Longino went out on an infield fly to retire the side. Navarro couldnt' score in the ninth.

The Bulldogs' next game is slated for Friday night of this week at the local field, when they tangle with Henderson County of Athents.

ing sessions of the house of delegates.

Councilors Chosen

Other officers named were Dr. William M. Gambrell, Austin, councilor for the Seventh District, and Dr. J. H. Wooten, Jr., Columbus, councilor for the Eighth District.

Reelected were Dr. Merton M. Minter, San Antonio, to the board of trustees; Dr. R. B. G. Cowper, Big Spring, Second District councilor; Dr. Hatch W. Cummings, Jr., Houston, Ninth District councilor, and Dr. L. C. Powell, Beaumont, Tenth District councilor.

The doctors, after several hours of heated debate, made their decision on the headquarters last night. They voted 106 to 40 to move headquarters and the Association's library to Austin before the next session of the legislature.

Those in favor of the move advanced these reasons:

Most of the allied professional and medical organizations are headquartered in Austin; the capital is more centrally located than Fort Worth; the association expects a friendlier press in Austin; the present building in Fort Worth is inadequate.

At last night's meeting, Dr. Robert L. Sutherland of Austin, director of the Hogg Foundation of the University of Texas, received the first annual Dallas Health Museum award "for outstanding contribution to public health in Texas."

While the house of delegates and other specialized groups were meeting last night, general practioners from throughout the state convened to organize a Texas chapter of the American College of General Practitioners.

Officers Named

Named president of the new organization was Dr. J. P. Copeland, San Antonio.

Other officers include Dr. E. A. Rowley, Amarillo, vice president; Dr. W. P. Higgins, Fort Worth, secretary, and Dr. C. C. Shotts, San Antonio, treasurer.

Directors are Dr. H. T. Jackson, Fort Worth; Dr. Allen Stewart, Lubbock, and Dr. J. M. Travis, Sr., Jacksonville.

Through escouraging medical students and doctors to turn to general practice, the association hopes to alleviate a shortage of doctors in some rural areas.

LABOR

In Washington, Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) asserted that price policies of the steel industry were controlled by the U. S. Steel Corp. He said price increases last fall and cuts announced recently were made at about the same time by the major steel companies. Congress, he said, should investigate.

Conciliation efforts in the railroad dispute got under way at Chicago. Attending the conference were two members of the National Mediation Board and representatives of the railroads and three operating unions.

Strike Date Set.

The official strike notice was announced yesterday by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen and the Switchmen's Union of America.

The third union seeking a 30 percent wage hike with a minimum increase of $3 a day—the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers—did not join in the strike call. A spokesman for the engineers said the union has "not made up its mind when and if a strike date will be set."

However, a strike by the other two unions alone could cripple the nation's rail transportation system.

COUNCIL

The following executive committee was selected:

A. P. Mays, Tom Bailey, Gaston Gooch, Louis Wolens, Mrs. J. C. Dempsey, Ralph Stell, W. H. Smith and Mrs. H. R. Stroube, and Ben Morgan, negro.

Elections Unanimous.

The officers and executive committee were named after unanimous approval of a nominating committee's report, presented by Ed Polk, chairman. The new slate is expected to be installed at a dinner-meeting some time next month at the Country Club Dr. Wells Stephens, outgoing president, announced.

Dr. Stephens told the approximately 40 council members in attendance that "We have come a long way, and it hasn't been easy." He praised the small group who were so active in organizing the council and expressed appreciation for the Navarro Community Foundation's $5,000 grant to the council to pay an executive director's salary for one year.

Apparently directing most of his brief talk to the new president. Dr. Stephens declared:

"We must operate in a democratic manner; we must have broad representation on our council at all times."

Name Change Explained.

He explained that the council's name was changed after investigations of similar organizations in other cities. The local council is an organization of the community and not a group of organized youth, as is implied by the name "Youth Council," he said.

The plan for an executive director to help the council carry on, to co-ordinate agencies' activities, to do counseling, has been the council's goal for nearly a year. And its approval was only a formality.

After installation of the new officers, and when additional funds are secured, a special committee headed by Mrs. H. P. Stroube will begin looking for an executive director, trained in community organization and social work.

Two Movies Shown.

Two movies were shown at the meeting—a British Information Ministry film, and a Canadian film on psychiatry.

The latter concerned a juvenile court in Scotland and how it operated to combat delinquency. The movie disclosed several agencies which Corsicana and many larger cities do not have, such as a child guidance center and medical psychological services.

The Canadian movie, entitled "The Feeling of Rejection" was the story of a young, unmarried woman who had developed the feeling she was "not wanted" during childhood. The maladjustment grew even worse in adult life and serious physical symptoms appeared, including severe headaches and gastric disorders. After psychiatric treatment, her trouble was cleared up.

ed to enter a float in the parade. County towns also will be invited to have their community represented.

During the afternoon the committee in charge of street and square dances will meet. At 10 a. m. Friday the invitations committee with Mrs. W. H. Hastings in charge will hold its initial session. At 3:30 p. m. Friday, a committee headed by W. H. Norwood will meet to formulate rules for the $200 essay contest, the money for which was given by Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McKinney and Mr. and Mrs. Jack McKinney.

Entertainment Panel.

Groups met Wednesday on other matters. Paul Hudgins, chairmar of the specialty entertainment and contests committee, met with representatives of his group.

This group will furnish hour-by-hour entertainment to fill in the gaps between the major spectacles, such as the pageant, barbecue, and parade. Most of the entertainment will be centered along Beaton street. An old fiddlers contest, a good hill-billy band to furnish constant music, and various other forms of entertainment and contests were discussed in their preliminary stages.

The town will be decorated by a company experienced in such work, according to a decision reached by the decorations committee with Fred H. Harvey, Jr., as chairman.

icy and European recovery is based on a longer extension of that program. He agreed with a questioner that failure to extend the trade act would make it impossible for Marshall plan countries to repay that part of the aid program that is repayable.

He also said the holding up of confirmation of hundreds of postmasters by senate Republicans doesn't do the business of government any good. Holding them up is with the idea that Republicans will be appointed if a Republican takes over the White House.

Draft-UMT Merger

The president said he gave reluctant approval of the compromise plan before the senate armed services committee for merger of universal training and draft programs.

"Is the compromise plan acceptable" a reporter asked.

That's all it is, acceptable, he replied, adding: It is the best we can get. It's not what I want, but it's a step in the right direction.

Mr. Truman said the government's conciliation service is working to prevent a rail strike. He said he thinks it will have good luck, at least he hopes so.

Asked if he might appoint a board to inquire into the Boeing Aircraft strike at Seattle, he said he does not believe he could under the law because the strike could not be classed at a national emergency.

Regarding a visit he had with Senator Cordon (R-Oregon), he said he is still for Hawaiian statehood and has done all he can to bring it about. The senator invited him to attend a Rose Festival in Oregon in June, but the president said he did not know whether he could go. He speaks in California June 12.

works and how it has worked in this case—

1. When there's a railroad-union dispute, a permanent, three-man government board, called the mediation board, steps in. It tries to get both sides to agree to a settlement.

2. If the mediation board fails—in this case it knew it had failed by mid-January—it asks both sides to accept arbitration.

Arbitration means a board of three or more men, agreed to by both sides, which listens to the arguments and then gives a decision.

Arbitration Final

That decision is final. It ends the dispute. But—there can be no arbitration unless both sides agree. As pointed out, neither side under the railway labor act has to agree to anything.

If arbitration is refused the mediation board tells the president. (It did in mid-January.) It tells him there's a national emergency because of the threat of a rail strike.

3. Then the president sets up a board of fact-finders. (Mr. Truman did.) And there is not supposed to be a strike—but, again, this is strictly voluntary—for at least 60 days after the fact-finders have been appointed.

The fact-finders recommend a settlement. Neither side has to agree to it. If one side turns it down, the union is free to strike.

sentry inside Trans-Jordan territory.

Egyptian Communications Minister Dessouki Abaza Pasha said in Cairo large Egyptian army forces had been sent to the southern border of Palestine. Regent Abdul Ilah of Iraq said in Amman his country's army had started moving toward Palestine and would pass through Trans-Jordan.

British Oppose Jews.

The British rushed in a battalion of Irish Fusiliers to support their pledge not to permit the Jews to occupy Jaffa, the Arab port adjoining all-Jewish Tel Aviv. The reinforcements brought the British force available to about 2,000 men.

As far as was known, Irgun appeared determined to try and hold the Arab quarter. Throughout the night, Irgun forces dug into defense positions and brought up fresh troops.

British shells fell in the Manshieh quarter. Early damage and casualties were reported small.

The news of a cease fire for the old walled city of Jerusalem was received here with optimism. Neither the Jews nor the Arabs, however, had received instructions by early afternoon to cease fighting, as their spokesmen agreed before the United Nations.

Formal Claims For Poisoned Cattle To Be Submitted

ANGLETON, Tex., April 29—(AP)—Official claims for loss of cattle as a result of arsenic poisoned waters of Little Linville creek were expected to ge before a three-man board today for consideration.

The claim board was set up to appraise losses suffered by Brazoria and Matagord county stockmen after poison was inadverantly dumped into thes tream, which separates the two counties.

On the board are Judge Thurman Gupton, L. J. McNeill, retired Brazoria county rancher and banker, and Tom Matthews, Van Vleck, Matagorda county rancher and rice farmer.

They held a brief meeting yesterday prior to starting on an inspection trip through the affected area, which covers a 15-mile strip along the Little Linville.

Lt. and Mrs. Young Back From Korea

Lt. and Mrs. Francis T. Young and their two children, who have been in Korea about two years will be in Corsicana for a visit Thursday, friends and relatives here learned Wednesday.

Mrs. Young is the former Mary Alice Holsey, sister of Assistant County Attorney Seton Holsey, and niece of Mrs. W. R. Holsey, 202 North Thirteenth street.

The family docked in California from the overseas journey Tuesday and were scheduled to leave the coast Wednesday night by plane for Dallas. They are expected in Corsicana some time Thursday afternoon.

Lieut. Young has completed his assignment in Korea and probably will receive a new one in the U. S.

Governor Revokes Clemency Of Man Now Jailed Here

AUSTIN, Tex., April 29—(AP)—Clemency actions taken by Gov. Beauford H. Jester today included revocation of five conditional pardons and granting of an emergency parole and conditional pardon.

Men from whom clemencies previously granted were revoked included:

Clifton Dunnings—sentenced to 30 years for murder with malice and burglary in Walker and Navarro counties in 1937. A burglary complaint has been filed against Dunnings in Navarro county.

Two Complaints Here

The defendant Clifton Dunnings is facing two burglary complaints here, one in connection with the entering of the Mrs. Ruben Milligan residence south of Richland, April 5, when a hat was secured after a window was broken, and the other was for the entering of the Harvey Herring residence at Angus, April 14, when a shotgun and two .22 rifles were missed, later being recovered by the sheriff's department.

Chas. T. Banister, county attorney requested the state board of pardon and paroles to revoke the conditional pardon aft r the defendant's arrest here, he stated Thursday shortly before noon.

Dunnings is in the Navarro county jail.

The cases are expected to be presented before the grand jury.

Newspaper PM Sold

NEW YORK, April 29—(AP)—A West coast attorney and a Manhattan newsman have bought controlling interest in PM, eight-year-old New York City newspaper.

The sale to Bartley C. Crum, 47, San Francisco lawyer, and Joseph Barnes, 40, foreign editor of the New York Herald Tribune, was announced last night by PM publisher Marshall Field III. Field said he would retain a minority interest.

Corsicana Cubs Defeat Waxa 7-2

The Corsicana High School Cubs chalked up their second baseball win over the Waxahachie B team, which plays under the banner of Curry's Pharmacy, in Waxahachie Wednesday night, 4-2.

Walter Bond, sophome hurler, gave up only four hits and went the entire route to get credit for the win. The game was played under the lights at Richards Park, which has been recently remodeled and is one of the most modern baseball parks in Texas.

The Cubs trounced Curry's in Corsicana last week, 6-4. Coach Boyd Payne said that the Cubs would play another home and home series with the Waxahachie crew before the end of the season.

Famous Horse Was Foaled At Dawson And Buried Here

Charlie M, famous race horse, trotter and pacer, is the subject of an article prepared by E. O. (Buck) Zeanon of Dawson.

The famous horse was foaled in 1873 on the David Onstott ranch where Dawson is now located, and several years later was traded to a woodhauler in Corsicana for a mule.

The horse won a race when about 8 or 9 years old and was purchased by the late J. W. Mitten, who trained the horse as a trotter and pacer, winning many races in Texas, California, and Illinois. He won his last race at the age of 21 years.

The famous horse is described as a dark beige color, blaze face, and white hind foot, about 16 1-2 hands high, weight 1,100 pounds.

Charlie M died in 1899 at the age of 26 years and a monument erected at his grave on the east side of Post Oak creek in East Corsicana still stands.

His records include:

Pacing—One mile—2 minutes 21 1-4 seconds.

Trotting—one mile—2 minutes 24 1-4 seconds.

Bingham Makes Bond; Charged With Burglary

Clyde James Bingham, 34, alias Clyde James, was released on $5,000 bond from the Navarro county jail Wednesday on a burglary charge filed Monday in connection with the burglarizing of the McColpin Grain Company early Sunday afternoon. The bond was arranged and approved in Dallas county, Sheriff David Castles said. Bingham was taken to Athens.

Three men were seen to enter the grain company premises and following a hail of gunfire, two men escaped, believed to have driven from Corsicana in an automobile. Bingham was arrested in the building by Claude Patterson, city policeman.

Bingham was named in a burglary complaint filed in Athens Tuesday by Sheriff Dean Holiman of Henderson county, following the burglarizing of the Gibbs Cafe in Athens early Sunday morning.

A safe and cash register was taken from the cafe and later in the morning was found on the Dallas highway, reports from Athens stated. Both had been forced open and three dollars in pennies and some papers and checks were missing.

Shriff Holiman was in Corsicana Sunday night.

Series Of Cattle Thefts In Kerens Area Are Cleared

A series of cattle thefts near Kerens, dating back to January 1947, is no longer a mystery to Navarro county officers, who have arrested three negroes in connection with the crimes.

Formal charges of cattle theft were filed before Justice of the Peace A. E. Foster Wednesday against John Henry Winston and James Cloud. Charges of receiving and concealing stolen cattle were filed against Fred Smith.

Constable Chester Kyster of Kerens filed the charges after an investigation conducted by him and sheriff's officers. Two of the negroes have signed statements, Assistant County Attorney Seton Holsey announced.

The complaints accuse Winston and Cloud of stealing cattle from Guy M. Gibson and Charles Reese of near Kerens.

Four complaints were filed against Smith, accusing him of receiving and concealing cattle.

Bonds of $1,000 each were set for the trio.

Holsey said at least five cows and three calves were stolen from Gibson and Reese from January, 1947, up to early this month.

The cases will be presented before the county grand jury.

Charles B. Roberts of Dallas, who for many years has been prominently identified with the Sears, Roebuck and Co. organization in this section of the country, has been elected a company vice president, it was learned here today.

A frequent visitor to Corsicana, Mr. Roberts has a wide acquaintanceship among local business and civic leaders. In his new capacity he will have supervision over a newly established Southwestern territory which includes Sears retail and mail order operatiins in three entire states and parts of two other states.

The local Sears store will come under Mr. Roberts' jurisdiction, L. B. Shofner, manager, reports.

The establishment by Sears of this new territory, along with another territory in the midwest, completes a program of decentralizing the company's administrative activities which began in 1941, Mr. Shofner explained.

Mr. Roberts was born in Dallas and for many years has been one of its leading citizens. His career with Sears began in 1912 when he was employed by the Dallas mail order plant as an adjustment clerk. His career was interrupted by World War I when he served with the U. S. Army. After his war service he returned to the Dallas plant where, after a series of advancements, he became general superintendent in 1926. He later carried out important mail order and retail executive assignments in the midwest and in January, 1935, he was made retail field officer for the company's southwestern zone. He was elected a Sears director in 1936.

Mr. Roberts is a director of the Republic National Bank of Dallas; a director of the Texas Better Business Bureau; a trustee of Baylor University; a deacon and trustee of the First Baptist Church in Dallas, and a brigadier general of the United Confederate Veterans. He holds memberships in the Dallas as well as the Texas Historical Society; the Dallas Citizens' Council, Rotary International, and the Texas Farm Bureau.

000 (166,000) organized reserves. They would man about 390 combatant ships including about 16 carriers and 32 air groups.

An Air Force of 502,000 men (335,000). The ultimate objective would be a 70-group force at full strength or a little over full strength.

The ultimate 70-group regular Air Force would be backed by 60 groups of National Guard planes.

A Marine Corps of 108,000 men (81,500), with 40,000 more in the organized reserve.

This would be a peacetime force.
